

SENATE STANDS BY PRESIDENT AGITATION EMBARRASSING WILSON QUELLED

ADMINISTRATION VICTORY TAKES FIGHT TO HOUSE

Washington, March 3.—By a vote of 68 to 14, a greater majority than they expected, administration forces in the senate today tabled Senator Gore's resolution to warn Americans off the armed ships of the European belligerents and thereby finally quelled in the senate an agitation which has embarrassed President Wilson in the submarine negotiations with Germany. Senator Gore's resolution, a substitute by Senator McCumber, a Republican, and an attempt by Senator Gore to strengthen his original proposal, all were defeated at one time on a roll call on a motion by Senator James one of the administration whips, to table them.

The administration victory in the senate transferred the fight to the house.

It was said at the White House that the result in the senate was satisfactory and met with wishes of President Wilson. It was added that attention would now be concentrated on the situation in the house.

The roll call was as follows: Ayes: Ashurst, Babhead, Beckham, Brandegee, Broussard, Burleigh, Chilton, Clark, Wyoming; Calkins, Culberson, Curtis, Dillingham, Dupont, Fletcher, Gore, Harding, Harwick, Hitchcock, Hollis, Hughes, Hustling, James, Johnson, Maine; Johnson, South Dakota; Kern, Lane, Maryland; Lewis, Lodge, McLean, Martin, Martine, Myers, Nelson, Newlands, Oliver, Overman, Owen, Page, Phelan, Pittman, Poindexter, Pomerehne, Randall, Reed, Shafroth, Sheppard, Shields, Simmons, Smith, Clarke, Arizona; Smith, Georgia; Smith, Maryland; Smith, Michigan; Smith, South Carolina; Sterling, Stone, Swanson; Thomas, Thompson, Tillman, Underwood, Vandaman, Wadsworth, Walsh, Warren, Weeks, Williams, total, 68.

Nays: Borah, Chamberlain, Clapp, Cummins, Fall Gallinger, Granger, Jones, LaFollette, McCumber, Norris, O'Gorman, Sherman, Works, total, 14.

Senator Gore himself voted to table his resolution. Senators Chamberlain and O'Gorman were the only Democrats to vote against the administration. The other twelve Anti-administration votes were all Republican. Forty-seven Democrats and twenty-one Republicans voted to table the resolution.

During the roll call Senator Smoot, Republican, asked to be excused from voting because he was not able to vote direct on the proposition. Senator Borah, Republican, objected, but the senate voted to excuse him. He said that if present Senator Salsbury would have voted aye, on the original resolution, Senator Borah, misunderstanding that Senator Stone was explaining the vote of a colleague, objected.

"If this senate is going to be gagged, the senator from Missouri will be gagged with the rest of us," Senator Borah shouted. When order was restored Senator Stone explained that "On this resolution I vote aye."

There was some uncertainty among senators as to the status of the various resolutions when the roll call had begun.

It was explained that Senator Jones had moved to lay not only the Gore warning resolution but also the so-called corrected resolution on the table. It was necessary then for Senators to express themselves as to warning and on the question of the killing of an American on an unarmed merchantman as a cause for war, in one vote.

For that reason Senator Gore voted to table because he did not favor his own substitute and had introduced it merely to get an expression of the senate on that issue.

The text of Senator Gore's addition to his original resolution, was as follows:

"Resolved, by the senate, the house of representatives concurring, that the sinking by a German submarine without notice or warning of an armed merchant vessel of her public enemy, resulting in the death of a citizen of the United States, would constitute a just and sufficient cause of war between the United States and the German empire."

Several senators explained that the double form of the question was responsible for the character of the vote as few senators wanted to vote on the question regarding a cause for war.

Immediately after the vote in the senate, Senator Reed, Democrat, read a statement saying he felt it was highly important that the impression in Germany that the country and congress was not behind the president should be removed and that therefore he was opposed to the Gore resolution.

"It is of the highest importance," said he "that all the

OHIO TOWN HAS CRONES IN TOILS, PERHAPS

Springfield, O., March 3.—A man giving Harry MacLaken as his name and Chicago as his residence, arrested here last night and held on a charge of suspicion, denies that he is Jean Crones, wanted in Chicago on the charge of being the soup poisoner. The man arrested here is held in the county jail, much secrecy surrounding him. No one is permitted to see him.

The Springfield prisoner says that he is a resident of Chicago, and has a wife and child living there. He came here to work as a chef and was at a local hotel when arrested. The police say he tallies to the description of Crones.

world understand that on any question of the rights of the American government or the American citizen our great people stand as a unit and that they will uphold, sustain and defend those rights, if necessary, to the last breath."

In connection with his statement, Senator Reed assailed the sensational discussion in the senate yesterday.

"I believe the effect of those utterances yesterday are to assert that in this nation are those considering the interests of Germany rather than of the United States," said he.

"There has been much talk of traitors. I believe it would be difficult to find the whole United States one thousand men who would not assert the highest degree of loyalty to the country. I utterly abominate and repudiate the statement attributing to any one the desire to act against the interests of the United States merely because of his conclusion that he will be in accord with the interests of the supporters of one of the belligerents."

Senator Jones, republican, declared the falling of the resolutions had further fegged rather than clarified any issue.

"Nothing has been decided today, except that the senate of the United States can be gagged about the issue," he said. "We have not passed on the issue. We have only done like the ostrich and in the face of danger have covered our heads in the sand. I voted against the resolution on general principle."

MOMENTOUS PLANS ON FOOT TO GIVE AMERICA RUSSIA'S TRADE; MONOPOLY ONCE ENJOYED BY GERMANY TO BE OFFERED U. S.

Section of the port of Odessa, a new door in Russia to American goods; railway station at Riga, Russia's gateway to Baltic; D. R. Francis, new American ambassador to Russia.

Russia's tremendous trade, almost monopolized by Germany before the war, is to be offered to America at the war's close. German traders will be kept out of the czar's domain. England and France will be unable to handle much of the Russian trade for years to come. American merchants will be invited, even urged, to take Germany's place in the Russian market.

Blood Seeping Through Earth Gave Hope To Men Buried Alive In Trench

Paris, March 3.—The story of the three French sappers who were buried alive for hours during the battle of Verdun and who finally dug their way out to safety, is told in detail by one of them who arrived in Paris on a hospital train this morning. He said:

"With my friends, Bernard and Kean, I was posted in a trench at the edge of the Vanche woods. The enemy showed a disposition to attack and, according to orders, the three of us, with a charge of powder, fuses and tools, started down a mine gallery, to fill the mine chamber to lay the fires and to pack the gallery behind it. We did this without difficulty, and were on our way back when a heavy explosion shook us. Had our mine gone off already?"

"I hear stones falling," said one of my comrades. "We rushed forward, the gallery was full of gravel. We realized the horrible truth; we were walled up. An enemy shell had exploded above the gallery, causing the roof to fall in."

"We examined the walls in feverish haste. 'We are done for,' said Jean. 'We were not afraid of death; it was a part of the game; but we did not like to die there in the darkness.'"

"How long can we stay in here?" Jean asked again. "There is plenty of air and the gallery is roomy, but there is nothing to eat," I replied.

"Well what's the good of a few

Push Lines To The West Prisoners, Guns Taken

Berlin, Mar. 3.—(Via London)—German troops cleared the village of Douaumont and pushed their lines to the west and to the south of the village and of the armored fort yesterday, according to the official announcement issued today by the German army headquarters staff. The statement adds that more than 1,000 prisoners were taken and also that a number of heavy guns were captured.

Paris, March 3.—The Germans have resumed their violent attacks to the north of Verdun. The only point where they attained any success, according to this afternoon's official statement by the war office, was in the Douaumont region where they succeeded in reaching Douaumont village where heavy fighting is continuing. Other attacks in this region were repulsed with heavy losses to the Germans.

London, March 3.—The British official statement issued says: "We recaptured the trenches at the bluff of the Ypres-Comes canal which were lost February 14 and also captured a small section in the German line."

JANUARY HAD HIGH DEATH RATE IN OHIO

In past years the number of deaths in January has been usually less than 6,000.

GEO. B. COX CONDITION IS CRITICAL

Cincinnati, O., March 3.—The condition of George B. Cox, the former Republican leader and theatrical magnate, who was stricken with paralysis on Tuesday night remained practically the same during last night and early today. Mr. Cox has regained consciousness, but is unable to speak and the morning bulletin issued by the attending physicians indicated that his condition remains very critical.

Dr. E. O. McCall is nursing a heavy cold which he contracted recently.

Francis Kellogg, of Union street, who has been ill with pneumonia, is better.

Billy Batt In Tires Weather Man

I certainly never had any insinuations of starting a lion and lamb controversy but it seems that I have. Judge Ball says we haven't had a speck of "lamb" weather since March came in. The Hamlet Club is triply divided on the question some being "lamb" and some "lion" and some maintaining that we're having both at one and the same time. Among these factions I'm pursuing the even tenor of my way—lamb yesterday, lion today—and for tomorrow: Ohio—Generally fair tonight and Saturday. Kentucky—Fair tonight and Saturday. Colder in west portion tonight. West Virginia—Snow flurries and colder tonight. Saturday fair.

OVERCOME OPPOSITION TO "MOTORIZING" DEPARTMENT

Opposition to the administration plans for completely motorizing the city fire department has been overcome declare the city officials. After the meeting of city council Wednesday night, when the motorization project had to give way to the two big emergency measures, namely the restoration of the reservoir and the extension of the city flood wall and was therefore tabled, an informal "get together" conference followed. The members strongly favoring the immediate and complete motorization of the department urged the change as they never did before. They pointed out that the cost of shoeing the horses now in use by the department alone would equal if not exceed the expense of maintaining an entire motorized department and advanced various other arguments regarding the cost of feeding horses, the condition of the present apparatus and the like in support of the claims that the saving thus made would more than pay the interest on the bonds that are issued for motorization. While the proposed bond issue is fixed at $30,000, it was argued, that there would most likely be a surplus of two or three thousand which could be applied to the interest.

Those favoring the plan succeeded in winning the others, who had held out for motorizing on the piece meal plan, around to their way of thinking and it was finally agreed to pass the bond issue at the next regular meeting of council, Wednesday, March 15th.

The recommendations made by E. K. S. Clinkenshard, director of public safety, for motorizing the department provide for one chief's motor car at an estimated cost of $1500; one tractor for steamer, $4000; one aerial ladder truck, $10,000; two combination hose and chemical motor trucks, $10,000; one squad motor car, $2,500; hose, $1,000; grand total $30,000.

When you are in Portsmouth stop at the Biggs House. Messrs. Moore and Fanning, who recently took over the management, have made several improvements. They will make you feel at home.

HOW TO GET STRONG

A Simple Remedy

Whatever the cause, we want to say to every person who needs strength, you need Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, as it is the most efficient strength creator we have in our store. Here is proof from Dorchester, Mass.:

"I don't know what we would do without Vinol in our family. I was weak, nervous and run-down as the result of an operation, and Vinol restored my strength. Then Grandmother had a nervous breakdown, and Vinol built her up and restored her health and strength after everything else had failed. We have used Vinol for 13 years in our family, and would not be without it in the house." Myrtle L. Healy, Dorchester, Mass.

We believe in Vinol because we know it is a great strength creator,—due to the extractive medicinal elements of fresh cod livers, without oil, combined with peptonate of iron and beef peptonate, all dissolved in a pure medicinal wine, so we always return the purchase money if Vinol fails to benefit those who buy it.

Lines.
Ratons, poems, plays, drawings, thoughtful brows, palms of hands and geometry are made up of lines.

Lines sometimes have a president and a board of directors and presidents and boards of directors usually have lines. The care of lines produces lines of care.

Fishes and sentimental young ladies are frequently caught with lines. Poets formerly were much given to lading certain lines to young ladies, but the modern lady who desires certain lines usually goes to a mollusc.

A man who gets a line on other people is either a prodigious son, a detective or a tattoo artist.—Judge.

REALTY DEAL MEANS A NEW ADDITION TO THE BOULEVARD

One of the most important real estate deals that has been closed in the city for sometime was consummated Friday when the H. A. Bierley Realty company bought a portion of the Frank A. Bihlman property on the Boulevard north of the city. The consideration was $16,000.

The deal includes all the land south of the pike and the house on the property. The strip will be subdivided by the new owners, the lots to face the pike and will be 50 by 200. It will be known as Bihlman's Boulevard.

In addition to this important deal the H. A. Bierley Realty company sold W. W. Bauer's new six room house at 1666 Highland avenue.

They also sold John Shonkwiler's seven room house at 1915 Hutchins avenue to W. O. Russell, who is employed by the Gilbert Grocery company. Mr. Shonkwiler in turn bought Mr. Russell's home at 718 Fourth street. He intends to wreck the present two story brick structure on it and will erect a fine bungalow on the lot. The building was for years known as the Home For Aged Women.

The firm also sold Mrs. Louise Faville's house at 1613 Twelfth street to F. A. Bruhl and a lot on Timmonds avenue to John Walters.

Virgil Fowler, proprietor of the Camera Shop, says the price of metal, a chemical used by photographers for developing purposes, has advanced to $50 per pound on account of the world war. It was formerly to be had at from $5 to $7 per pound.

Taken To Workhouse
William Carr and Frank Holt, who were convicted of vagrancy and the latter's "affinity" Lizzie Lery, who was found guilty of conducting a disorderly house, were taken to the Cincinnati workhouse by Police Captain Reina Walker, Friday morning.

Fat and Thin.
The two women encountered each other at a dance. They had not met for several years.

"How thin you have grown!" exclaimed one.

"How fat you've got to be!" the other cried, and they stood gazing at each other in some dismay.

"Before you come to blows," remarked a mutual friend who stood by, "let's take a vote as to which is worse, to get too fat or to get too thin."—Exchange.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, March 3.—With trading at a minimum and wholly professional, today's market made further substantial recoveries from low levels of the mid-week.

Gains ranging from material fractions to a full point marked the opening of today's trading, with a few off-setting features, mainly in rails and war issues. Speculation was moderate and cautious, however, there being plainly a further disposition to await the outcome of developments in Washington. Commission houses reported a cessation of out of town liquidation but public interest on the buying side continued negligible. Prices yielded before the end of the half with special weakness in Baldwin Locomotive and Allied issues.

A spirited rise in oils, American Locomotive and some other active industrials succeeded the decline in Baldwin and prices recovered to or above yesterday's finals. Mexican Petroleum and Texas company rose 3/4 each and American Locomotive gained almost three points. Some specalties displayed greater weakness, however, General Motors losing 10 and Consolidated Gas and Electric of Baltimore declining 5 1/4 trading became very apathetic later, the first hour's turnover being the smallest of recent days and showing increased dullness at the approach of the mid-session. Bonds were steady. Prices showed firmness in the final hour under the lead of U. S. Steel. The closing was strong.

"Have we complied with the request of the president? What did he say to Representative Pott? That he felt justified in asking permission to urge an early vote on the resolution in order to give an opportunity for full public discussion, and this is the full public discussion we have."

"Perhaps the senator from Washington is not in touch with the subterranean passageway to the White House," suggested Senator Borah.

"It is easy to introduce another resolution," continued Senator Jones. "The senate has not settled the issue yet. The president is not advised of the sentiment of the senate on this proposition and the people of this country and the nations abroad know it." He expressed the hope that the discussion would serve to prevent any Americans taking passage on any ships owned by belligerent nations.

The nation's anger should hang on the fool-hardiness of no man he said.

In re-introducing his resolution, Senator McCumber protested that debate could not be shut off and that either later today or tomorrow he would call up his resolution.

Senator Clarke, democrat of Arkansas, also protested against the senate's action although he voted with the majority.

"The senate has not disposed of the question today with the dignity the subject demands," said he.

"I believe that if we had been absolutely neutral from the beginning," added Senator Clarke, "that the unfortunate struggle in Europe would now be well on its way to an adjustment. There is no overlooking the fact that all declarations of this government have led in a certain direction; that official America at least was interested in the success of one of the contestants, and it does not require much ingenuity to determine which. I do not think that the view of official Washington is the view of the American people or of the American congress."

"I did not favor the provisions of the Gore resolution as it was introduced. It sought to ask us to give up the privilege on armed ships. It was unnecessary to go that far. I am perfectly willing to let a citizen of the United States travel as he wants, but I am unwilling to let him make his travels the subject of international controversy. The resolution was designed with the purpose of getting the senators to vote down something they really favored. It is true enough for this nation to go to war when there is a real cause."

Senator Gallinger, republican, said that as the only New England senator to vote not to table the Gore resolution, he was entitled to explain his vote.

"I think we are entitled to debate this question in the open," said he. "By our action today we have reached no conclusions. I am in favor of doing all we can to prevent war and I think it wise to advise against Americans traveling on armed ships."

Senator Borah on the other hand said he was in favor, after full debate, of having congress go on record as supporting the right of Americans to go on armed merchantmen, a right recognized for five hundred years, and to tell the world that any nation which did not recognize that right would be held to a strict accountability.

Washington, March 3.—When the senate assembled promptly at 11 o'clock practically all the administration senators were in their seats waiting for the usual round of morning business to be passed over so Senator Stone could make the agreed motion to table the Gore resolution.

To hurry the procedure, it was agreed to dispense with reading the journal. The usual gist of memorials and petitions was presented. The floor, crowded with senators and representatives and the galleries packed by a throng which included the president's wife, fairly hummed with expectation.

Senator Gore, author of the resolution which the administration forces were ready to kill and who yesterday made the sensational declaration that he had heard President Wilson expected war with Germany, was led to his seat by his secretary, the exposure of all eyes in the chamber. The administration leaders, confident and prepared, sat back awaiting the proper moment.

Morning business was finally closed and Senator Stone asked that the Gore resolution be laid before the senate.

Senator McCumber, Republican, of North Dakota, offered a substitute to express the sense of the senate that the rules of international law should be revised to meet new conditions of war and that pending negotiations with foreign powers, Americans be requested to refrain from endangering their lives by traveling on armed vessels.

When the McCumber substitute had been read, Senator Stone again called for the Gore resolution and it was laid before the senate.

Thereupon Senator James, of Kentucky, moved that the resolution and all substitutes be laid on the table. Senator Gore was on his feet asking recognition.

Senator Gore then offered a correction on his resolution to make it declare the sense of the senate that the death of an American citizen on an unarmed merchant ship would be a just cause for war.

After a brief parliamentary brush he was permitted to submit the correction of his resolution, but when he sought to discuss it he was shut off on objection by Senator James. The correction was then read and Senator James moved that it be included in the motion to table the original resolution and all substitutes.

Senator Gallinger asked that the original Gore resolution be read. That was done and the vice president ordered a roll call on a motion to table Senator Gore's correction, which it was decided had to be considered separately.

The Gore correction was tabled by a vote of 68 to 14.

The roll call was on Senator James' motion to table the original Gore resolution and all substitutes. The vote was 68 to 14. This served to kill also the McCumber substitute and the Gore correction.

Senator McCumber later reintroduced substantially the same resolution he had offered as a substitute to the Gore resolution. The McCumber resolution would go to the calendar.

Church Steeple.

The church steeple was originally designed as a means of advertising the situation of the church. Among the few buildings which originally predated the steeple was an impressive beacon, but under modern conditions it is a failure, as even the most towering steeple is lost among the higher industrial structures round about it. The steeple is really being replaced by electric lights, which answers the purpose much more satisfactorily. Electrically illuminated signs are being introduced quite extensively for this purpose.

CATARH CAUSED BY A GERM Must Be Destroyed Before Catarrh Can Be Cured. Wonderful Results From Breathing Medicated Air.

Medicine that acts on the blood alone will never cure catarrh. And neither will the sprays, douches, lotions, creams and other temporary relief that so many are misled into making a habit of using. New developments in the rumor of the negro known as "Louise" drowning in the Little Scioto river, just a half mile below Wheeler's Mills on Saturday afternoon, February 26, were made Friday when one of the officials at the Allen Construction Company camps announced that Thos. Ennis, one of their negro employees had been missing from his shanty since the posse gave chase to a negro whom they believed to be "Louise."

Ennis, according to the officials, had been having considerable trouble with a certain negro at the Hunt-Forbes construction camp and had been daily expecting trouble. He was at his cabin on the evening that "some one yelled 'There is 'Louise'."

After the alarm was sounded, J. F. Porter, J. R. Damarin, J. C. Bartley, William Van Gorder and J. D. French quickly armed themselves and started to surround the shanty. Ennis became frightened and started running across the field with the posse closely following.

The chase led over a rather broken country and the posse's "quarry" was lost several times. At last the chase led to the banks of the Little Scioto river where foot prints were found entering the river but none were found leading away. It was believed at the time that the fellow was drowned.

The officials of the construction camp are of the opinion that Ennis, the man whom the posse chased for "Louise" got across the creek and made good his escape to another construction camp.

"Louise" from all reports made his way into some of the construction camps in West Virginia.

Sheriff E. W. Smith has investigated several rumors concerning the whereabouts of "Louise" but all proved to be fruitless.

"Pay Up Week" Friday, Mr. Thomas stated that it was a big success. He said that the old debts collected by the merchants would amount to thousands of dollars. "The bank deposits for the past week at several of the local banks have been the best this year," said Mr. Thomas. About all of the contracts for the new Rating Guide have been signed and from present indications the number of subscribers will be larger than the previous year.

Splendid Crowd Attends U. B. Revival Despite Bad Weather

Despite the weather a rousing meeting was held at the U. B. church Thursday evening. Rev. Wright preached a sermon from the subject, "What Shall I Do to be Saved?" As a text he chose Acts 16, latter part of the 30th verse in which are the same words as the subject.

"Friends, the devil is a liar, a humbug, a deceiver. He never made a promise true in his life. 'I am going to concede to the unsaved here tonight this fact. That in this day and age of the world when so many different doctrines are being preached I do not blame the unsaved for just standing on one side and wondering what shall I do to be saved?' There has never been a time in the history of the world when so many false ways to get to heaven have been put forth. "The text is the words of a man who realized his condition. Conviction is not feeling. Many men and women are going to spend eternity in hell because they are waiting for some spell to overtake them. The only feeling required of a sinner is to realize his lost condition.

"Now there are three questions I want to ask you. 'I am not going to ask them of you, sinner, because you are verily hypnotized, mesmerized by the devil. But I want to ask the Christians. How many of you know for a fact that you are saved tonight? Every person who does not know he is saved or has never had the experience of salvation is saying that he is not sure of heaven. The second question is, 'Do you want to know how to be saved?' The third is 'Will you Christian people ask God to make you honest with yourself in regard to the other two questions?'

"Let us come to the place where we know we're working as one. Do you, as Christians, realize the value of a soul? God's time to save is now, tonight. 'Now is the time of salvation.' The reason you put it off is the presence of the devil in your heart.

"Now, my friends, who said you wanted to be saved tonight, I want you to listen. 'What must I do to be saved?' Well, I will answer first negatively. There are a great many things that are called salvation that are not. There are many counterfeits; there are many religions that are not labeled right; there are many religions that are not in accordance with the bible.

"Satan would have you believe that you must get in a place where you are afraid. Fear is not salvation. I would not give two cents for a bushel of deathbed repentances. If you intend to put off the hour when you shall accept Jesus Christ till the blood begins to grow cold in your veins, you may be deceived. Men who do not believe in God nearly always pray to Him in times of extreme danger.

"Being sorry for your sins and sorry only is not salvation, even praying is not salvation; resolving your wickedness or you are lost; reading the bible is not salvation; coming to church is not salvation. Then, what must you do to get saved? Many of these things are the results of salvation or will lead toward it.

"Turn to Ezekiel 18:27 and you will find these words: 'Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed and doeth that which is lawful and right he shall save his soul alive.' Can you do that? Yes, to a certain extent.

DOOR SMASHER SENT TO STATE HOSPITAL

Mrs. Elizabeth McCann, recently adjudged insane at an inquest held at the sheriff's office and turned over to relatives upon their solicitation by Judge Thomas C. Beatty, probate court, was again arrested and brought to the county jail Friday morning by Marshal William Wallace of Rarden. Judge Beatty sent the woman to the Athens state hospital Friday afternoon.

Mrs. McCann was arrested Monday morning by the local authorities for hurling a milk bottle at one of the large art glass doors in the Senate cafe. She was then adjudged insane and released at relatives' request. Thursday morning she was taken to Rarden by relatives where she again became violent.

It took the combined efforts of three men to keep her from preaching sermons to the residents of Rarden. So, Friday morning Marshal Wallace brought her to the county jail. Mr. Wallace said that he had considerable trouble with her on the journey.

No adequate equipment was available for removing the tree after it was felled and broken up, and so dynamite blasts were resorted to in creating a big hole in the ground, in which the various portions were buried.

BIG BOOST FOR KEIGLER FROM THE QUEEN CITY

That Charles Keigler, local boxing promoter, stands high in Cincinnati, is shown by the following letter received from the sporting editor of the Times, from Jimmy Shevlin, proprietor of "The Oyster House" in the Queen City. Mr. Shevlin is known far and wide for his square deal methods, not only in business, but in the sporting world as well. He weighs in with quite a boost for the noted wrestling champion, who hopes to pull off several good boxing stunts in the Peerless City. The letter follows:

Dear Sir: Mr. Chas. Keigler ex-champion wrestler was in our city one day last week, and informed the writer that he contemplated pulling a boxing entertainment in your city in the near future.

Both the writer and my partner in the boxing game, Mr. James Widmeyer of whom you no doubt have heard, have known Mr. Keigler for the past 10 years and want to say that the city of Portsmouth and the sporting fans in particular can feel gratified in having such a person as Mr. Keigler at the head of any athletic institution.

The writer has always found Charles, as we have learned to call him in the Queen City, on the "square" and as Joe Nolan, sporting editor of the Enquirer and who is authority on sports in this part of the country, had recently stated that the game was in need of just such characters as the former wrestler.

If I understand correctly the mayor of your city has promised his support to the game if he is sure the same can be run according to "Hoyle." I suppose you will agree with me when I state there is only one way to run any athletic event whether it be baseball, boxing, running or wrestling, and that is "on the level." I have found from four years' experience in promoting local shows that the public still always pays for something worth while, and it was with this object in view that I suggested a good card for Charles' opening contest.

Of course I realize neither party is going to get rich out of the boxing game on the first attempt in Portsmouth, and as the writer stated to Charles when here, I was willing to take a chance with him. The match which I have in mind being a ten-round event between Red Snider of this city and Terry Nelson of Philadelphia. These boys met once before and gave a dandy bout, the contest being a very even affair. The former looks like the light-weight champion in one year, and Nelson has had 150 battles, meeting such heavyweights as Joe Mandel, Frank Whitney, Jake Abel, Jack White, brother to Charles, Yankee Schwartz, Young Saylor, Tommy Murphy, Billy Ryan, Tommy Dillon, Mickey Sheridan and Pat Moore. Snider has learned all he knows while acting as sparring partner to Leach Cross, Johnnie Dundee, Joe Mandel, Jack Britton and Freddie Welsh, all of whom are loud in their claim as to his future career. Snider has won his last five battles in this city, and is at present matched with Cal Delaney of Cleveland here in the near future.

Hoping I may have the pleasure of meeting you in the near future, I am, Yours in sport,

JIMMY SHEVLIN.

THREE LOCALS ON ALL STAR TEAM

Three P. H. S. basketball players have been placed on an all-tournament basketball team by an All-Ireland, O., basketball student, who closely watched the teams in the tournament. Trone, forward, Brandel, guard and Baesman, center, are on the first team. Wagner, another P. H. S. regular, is placed as forward on the second team. Baker, of Ashville, was picked as forward and Aspie of Athens guard on the first team. Ashville was given three players on the second team and Shawnee one.

Indoor Meet

New York, March 3.—Athletic teams and officials of athletic organizations in most of the leading colleges and universities of the east are gathering here today to take part in the annual convention of the Inter-Collegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America of the annual indoor meet which is to be held tomorrow. More than 40 colleges representing upwards of 130 athletes or universities have entered for the indoor championships.

LOCAL TEAM TO ENTER

From all indications the P. H. S. basketball team, champions of southeastern Ohio, will take part in the state tournament which is to be held in Delaware on March 10 and 11 when the preliminary will be played and on March 11 the finals. Close to fifty teams will compete. Mr. Varon, Marquette and Delaware are three of the biggest teams entered.

Manager Mettraw like Manager Stohr has issued notice to his players that wives are to be barred from the training camp. Hence all the box wives at the Marine hotel will find their village homes unoccupied as partner and wife are barred. This is a strange rule and it is hoped that the players and their families will be able to find a way around it.

ASHLAND BASKETBALL TEAM HERE TONIGHT

Tonight at eight o'clock in the local high school gym the Southeastern Ohio basketball team will meet the best basketball squad that Ashland has ever had on the floor. ## SPORT SALAD

According to President William N. Gahman none of the local players have sent in their state contracts. Edward Bennett and Edward Donahue left today for Waco. They will soon do their business for another season. Charles Olson, former wrestler, has offered $5000 for a championship match between Frank Guthrie and Joe Seacrest, to be held at Indianapolis.

Vin Campbell, with Newark Federals last year, has signed with St. Louis Americans.

Albany Club, New York state league, has been sold to Dr. F. N. Tate for $25,000.

Manager Tom A. says Joe Williams had a good spring since he became champion.

Joe Smith, as a pitcher, is a notable player. He has signed with the Indians of Cleveland.

DOON'S TEAM IS WINNER

March 3, 1916. When the Ohio State basketball team left today for the east without its star forward, Don Doon, The Buckeyes will play their second game with the Maroons tonight. Doon surprised the Ohio State quintet here a few weeks ago. The lineup of the Ohio State team will include Doon, center and Jimmie and McClure guards.

Good As Ever Baker Says

When asked if he would be as good as ever next season, Home Run Baker said:

"I didn't think so, I'd rather say I'd be better. I've got a back number to get to the door. I never was bothered with a knee leg, in spite of reports to the contrary and I can run as fast as ever. The right field grandstand at the Polo grounds looks good to me, and if the breaks are in my favor this year I hope to knock a lot of balls into it."

If Shoulder Pains Matty Will Quit

Christy Mathewson, the old master of the pitching hill, isn't going to endure another season of torture. If he cannot pitch without experiencing severe pains in his neck and shoulder he will toss his glove into the discard and cease to be an active member of the Giants.

Last year Matty didn't pitch very much, and when he did he usually was lambasted for a fare-you-well.

He was a sick man. A nervous disorder in his neck and left shoulder made living almost unbearable for him, especially when he attempted to pitch. Matty has been under the care of a specialist all winter. The doc says he will be all right. Matty hopes so, but down at Marlin, Tex., he has said that should the pain return he'll go to the bench for good.

Thursday night's scores: Reds 6; Submarines 4. West End 12, Blues 6.

Fast Red Team Wins Pennant.

The "peppery" Little Red team won the pennant in the Junior League Thursday night when they defeated the Submarines, their closest rivals, by the close score of 6 to 4. This was the deciding game for the hunting, consequently a big crowd of fans were out to see the finish, which proved to be some more swell game. The Reds broke the tape, and were declared winners before one of the biggest crowds that ever witnessed a basketball game in Portsmouth. There was never a second during the entire game that both teams were not fighting like so many gladiators. There was never a dull moment, which is proven by the small score. The winners of the Red team are as follows: Paul Kenyon, right forward; Fletcher Pace, left forward; Charles Resinger, center; Homer Beville, right guard and captain; Howard Hubbard, left guard. A lesser team of boys was left guard. A lesser team of boys was left guard. A lesser team of boys was left guard.

WEST ENDERS CLOSE THIRD.

By defeating the Blues Thursday night the West Enders go into third place. The first half was a splendid exhibition of basketball, and was a close fight. This half closing with the teams tied 4 and 4. The West Enders forged ahead in the last half, winning out by the score of 12 to 6. The score:

TIGERS WIN BY ONE POINT.

In what was considered by many fans present as the most exciting game played in Boy Scout ranks this season, the Tigers defeated the All Stars by the close score of 22 to 21. The winning tally was registered just as the whistle was blowing for time in the last half, and made by Gus Edwards, fast Tiger forward. The score:

REXALLS STILL WINNING.

The Rexalls defeated their rivals the Grays Thursday in a close game, the score being 6 to 4. The game was full of the old-fashioned "pop" and the teams were neck and neck throughout the contest. The score:

HONORS HALVED BY STRONG DEBATING TEAMS

Huntington Orators Given Decision Here; Portsmouth Team Wins At Huntington

THE QUESTION

"Resolved, That There Should Be An Increase In The Army and Navy, According to the President's Plan."

AFFIRMATIVE DEBATERS

Harry Davidson, Russell Williams and Howard Lowry, of P. H. S., Alternate, Marion Garrison.

NEGATIVE DEBATERS

Clay Gillespie, Ivan Kiser and Russell Wyatt, of the Huntington High School.

THE JUDGES

Prof. Isaac Ash, Ohio University of Athens, O.

Judge James S. Thomas, of Portsmouth.

Prof. William Dawson, of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O.

CHAIRMAN

Superintendent of Pike County Schools, Prof. E. N. Dietrich, of Waverly.

"There was a debate in Huntington tonight," Prof. E. N. Dietrich, chairman of the local debate said as he arose from his chair at the conclusion of the oratorical contest waged with Huntington here, "and Portsmouth won."

Hardly had these words fallen from his lips than enthusiastic cheers echoed and re-echoed through the High School auditorium, the scene of the local end of a most interesting debate Thursday evening. Students and fair crowds fairly rocked the building with their cheers and yells and it was some little time before the cheering ended.

When the din ceased, Prof. E. N. Dietrich again rose from his chair, and walking to the center of the stage, said: "There has also been a debate in Portsmouth as every one in the audience knows, and Huntington won."

There were cheers at the conclusion of this remark, but they came from the victorious Huntington debaters. Clay Gillespie, Ivan Kiser and Russell Wyatt.

Showing a true sportsmanlike spirit the audience rose and lustily cheered the winning team, which was soon showered with congratulations in which the three defeated local debaters, Howard Lowry, Harry Davidson and Russell Williams lead the way.

Portsmouth had triumphed at Huntington and Huntington carried off the honors here, the double debate bringing honor to each school of which they may well feel proud, as the question was ably handled by both affirmative and negative sides, many strong reasons being logically and effectively advanced in the cause of preparedness and against the United States expending $500,000,000 to improve its navy and $250,000,000 to improve its army.

Debaters Were Well Drilled

Carefully coached and drilled, the debaters heard in the High School auditorium last night covered themselves with glory. Each was accorded his full need of praise and each speaker was liberally applauded both when he presented his opening argument and on his rebuttal. Each speaker was limited to eight minutes and they made every second count by the trip hammer methods they employed in dealing with the question being debated. Each speaker had memorized his speech and they plunged right into them, scoring any number of effective points. Portsmouth supporters and adherents really expected victory after it was announced that Portsmouth had won at Huntington and when the cruel announcement came that Huntington had turned the tables here, disappointment spread over the faces of the defeated debaters and the audience was not long in filling out of the building.

It was conceded on all sides that each debater had acquitted himself splendidly and there was very little to choose between them.

A short musical program preceded the speeches. The High School orchestra under the direction of Miss Harriet Scarff, skillfully rendered "Sweethearts" from the opera "Sweethearts". The second number was a quartet composed of Messrs. David Jones, Morris Ball, Louis Alderman and Walter Lewis. They sang "Sailing" and responded to an encore dedicated to the Huntington team. David Jones rendered two piano solos that stamped him as a very creditable pianist, he handling each selection in an exceptionally pleasing manner.

Harry Davidson Opened The Debate

Harry Davidson, who opened the debate for the affirmative side, said:

"In order that you may better understand the question I will read the president's plan:

"Increase the present standing army strength of 108,000 men to 142,000; the training of a volunteer citizen army of 400,000 by drilling not more than two months each year for three years; a five year program of naval increase which will add to our navy ten battleships and six battle cruisers, ten scout cruisers, fifty destroyers, one hundred submarines, and necessary hospital, fuel and repair ships and raise the present naval strength of 55,000 men to a number sufficient to man the whole, the said naval program to cost approximately $500,000,000 in five years."

"I propose to prove that there is necessity for preparedness according to the president's plans for four main reasons:

"In the first place there is a need of preparedness in order to uphold the honor and position of the United States. As among people, so among nations. There are vital principles to uphold and the greatest of all these principles is honor. It is the duty of every citizen to guard and protect this honor by the best means available."

"If we would uphold the honor and position of our country, we must become better prepared."

"In the second place there is a great need of preparedness in order to protect our citizens."

"In the third place there is a need of preparedness in order to protect the maritime interests of the United States and its people."

"In the fourth place, there is a need for preparedness in view of the fact that at the present moment there are grave dangers of our country becoming involved in war. By the Monroe Doctrine the United States has taken upon her shoulders the task of being guardian of the Central and South American republics."

Artificial Hysteria Says Huntington Debater

L. C. Gillespie was the first speaker introduced for the negative side by the chairman. In part he said:

"Because of the artificial hysteria of our country caused by an infamous get-rich-quick-scheme, we are debating the question of preparedness. We contend that we are in no greater danger now than we have been for many years. Our army and navy are plenty large enough to defend this country, providing they are made as efficient as possible. Europe is an demoralized right now that years must elapse before it will be able to attack any nation. The greatest thing in our favor now is the dearth of men in Europe. I have irrefutable figures which show that since the present European war broke out the total number of killed, wounded and captured by the warring nations, totals 14,398,000. Under the Dick Military Law, the president could call out just this number as a citizen soldiery. Need we fear anything from Europe? There have been as many men killed in Europe as there are in the great state of Illinois."

Would Effect

Productive Industries

Ivan Kiser, one of the negative speakers in defense of his side of the question in part said:

"To improve the navy according to the president's pet scheme, would involve an expenditure of $500,000,000 and for the army $250,000,000. I contend that to expend this enormous sum the productive industries of our country would be seriously affected. There would be no end to the demand for men and money and the arrogant capitalists would get it all. I believe that a thorough state of preparedness on the part of the United States would bring about a disastrous condition with our South American industries. This theory of being armed to the teeth is all wrong. We as citizens might as well arm ourselves with a brace of revolvers. Lots of times we are in more danger than our country."

History shows that by the number of wars the United States has been drawn into. By remaining neutral, we have increased our selling and buying powers. Do you recall how through our neutrality we arbitrated the Russo-Japanese war? That shows us to be a leader in arbitration."

Make Army And Navy More Efficient

Russell Wyatt, who proved himself to be one of the best debaters of the evening, in part said:

"Our present army of 100,000 is good enough if made thorough efficient. And our navy is large

RATTLING FINE IS A PICTURE IN A WINDOW

The moving picture at Warner Bros. drug store window today is a rattling good one and well set, representing a "rattlesnake roundup" with keepers in charge, same being Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Higgins, garbed in Texas costume, and several big rattlers doing the movie act in real undulating style. The scene is set in a crowd of men and boys, the latter with their noses glued to the window at all hours of the day while the show is on.

Mr. and Mrs. Higgins brought the rattlers all the way from their rattlesnake farm in Brownsville, Texas. Until they came here nobody in Portsmouth had any idea that they raised rattlers on a farm just like they do cows and hogs; but, according to Higgins, they do raise the "varmints" right in Brownsville, Texas, where Higgins has 30,000 rattlers, big ones and little ones, in ten pits, 3,000 of them in a pit. Pleasant company for neighbors, yes!

In Warner's window they have rattlers, the largest seven foot long, six years old, weighing twenty-two pounds, also a blacksnake, which is quite a pet with the rattlers. "These rattlers are very friendly fellows when you know them and they know you," says Mr. Higgins. He is not afraid of them either, he says, nor is Mrs. Higgins, although when asked the question both admitted having been bitten more than once and both showed scars on their hands due to snake bites. Asked also whether they believed in John Barleycorn as a cure for snakebite, they both smiled and said they certainly did not; that when bitten they cut open the wound wide and let it heal, keeping it open and letting it bleed as long as possible, in this way not allowing the poison to penetrate the system.

enough if placed at the highest point of efficiency. With 3,000 miles separating us from the European nations why should there be so much silly twaddle about preparedness. When we take care of our present army and navy as we should, then this question of so called preparedness can be taken up more sensibly. It is all right to talk about the honor and dignity of one's country, but so long as we are not engaged in warfare, why should we waste so everlastingly about our honor and dignity. They are not at war. Our coast defenses could be more adequate and will probably be made so since Uncle Sam is drawing a lesson from the unpreparedness of England and France when the present war was declared. Preparedness often means war."

Russell Williams

Advanced Strong Argument

Russell Williams, second speaker for the affirmative, said:

"Let us first consider the navy—our first line of defense. It is classed by experts, as third in power in the world. The first defect of our navy lies in its inadequate size, as we have just sixty per cent of the ships which would make our defense impregnable."

"Second, we are woefully lacking in men and officers to man our fighting ships. A ship with its full complement of men is a rare exception."

"The third fault is that our navy is not properly balanced. It lacks certain indispensable types of ships, such as battle cruisers, fast scouts, and destroyers."

"Fourth, and perhaps the greatest deficiency in our naval defense is the lack of a great naval base on the Atlantic or the Pacific coast."

"Our third line of defense is our mobile army. According to the most liberal estimates, this consists of only 90,000 trained men and officers, as compared to Holland's 160,000. As we have no tested plan of mobilization, it is hard to say how many men we could get together in a crisis. Our navy, being unprepared for war, and being third in power, would not be difficult to defeat. Our coast defense, being short of men, and having ammunition enough to fight for only four hours, being outgunned would offer little resistance—especially if subjected to an aerial attack by the enemy."

Howard Lowry Made A Splendid Impression

Howard Lowry, captain of the local team, and last speaker for the affirmative, said:

"The preparedness is a question that can best be illustrated by a merchant who takes out fire insurance on his business. He is preparing for what may come. It is policy of wisdom to be prepared on existing conditions. A pistol shot could start a war. If war would come it would catch us wholly unprepared. We are supposed to have 100,000 men in the standing army which means one soldier to defend every 1,000 persons, our population being estimated at 100,000,000. President Wilson loves peace and abhors war. One year ago he did not see the need of an increase. We are thankful today to have such a man at the head of our government, a man that could see a big thing and change his mind. He weighed the country in the balance and found it wanting. He then suggested a plan that meets all the requirements. We do not want peace at any price, but want peace with honor. That is the president's plan. It is criminal for this country to be unprepared for this is the richest country in the world. The question is not of dollars and cents, but one of honor. This country was plainly guilty of murder in the civil war which was the result of unpreparedness. Preparedness is an insurance policy for peace. The man or body does not exist who can plunge the United States into something her people do not want. It is better to prepare for war than to repair after war. Remember if you would have peace, prepare for war. The plan suggested is one that when carried out will make the United States an ideal nation. It is practical and economical."

Lowry presented one of the best arguments heard during the evening and was particularly effective in his rebuttal. He drew applause from the audience when he stated that it was very evident that the visitors were for "preparedness" for they came prepared to defend their argument.

Preparedness Was Given Black Eye

Relative to the debate held in Huntington last night in which Portsmouth emerged triumphantly the Herald-Dispatch of that city Friday morning said:

"Preparedness may be said to have received a black eye last night. Especially is this true of the preparedness plan advocated ordinarily by President Woodrow Wilson. Incidentally honors were even between the debating teams of the Huntington and Portsmouth high schools. There was an interesting debating contest on last night. Huntington sent a team to Portsmouth to meet a team from the Portsmouth high school and Portsmouth sent a team to Huntington to oppose representatives of the local high school. The debate was on the following question:

"Resolved, That the United States Army and Navy Should Be Increased in Accordance With the Original Plan of President Wilson."

Huntington took the affirmative in the clash here and the negative at Portsmouth.

"The result was that the judges last night gave a unanimous decision for the negative, while those who officiated at Portsmouth gave their decision for the negative also."

"The Huntington debate took place at Carnegie Hall in the presence of a large crowd. Principal John G. Graham, of the high school, was master of ceremonies, and Superintendent O. G. Grady, of Ceredo, President O. J. Woodley of Marshall College, and Dr. James W. Egle, of the First Methodist Episcopal church, acted as judges."

"The Huntington team was composed of Thornburg Peyton, Admiral Wolf and Walter Wood. The Portsmouth team was composed of Royal Marting, Lorin Cunningham and Cecil Tidd."

"Each side had eight minutes and three minutes were allowed for rebuttal."

"The local debaters argued soundly, but did not present their contentions in the same left manner or logical form. While they acquitted themselves creditably, there was no hesitation on the part of the judges in giving the palm to Portsmouth."

"While it was conceded to be a honorable defeat, there was gloom in the Huntington camp when the assembly at Carnegie Hall dispersed. The thick clouds settled down and all were ready to hear the worst from Portsmouth."

"But the worst turned out to be the best. The Huntington team sent to Ohio to present the arguments for the negatives rose up and did honor to the best city on earth."

Portsmouth debaters were drilled and coached by Profs. Alfred Stewart and Lawrence Bridge. Huntington orators were drilled by Prof. D. Smith Brown.

er, teacher of history and civics in the Huntington high school.

The Huntington debaters who appeared here will all graduate in June. Of the local teams William is a senior, Lowry a freshman, Davidson a junior, Garrison a junior, Marting a sophomore, Tidd junior, Cunningham senior and Schapiro junior.

The silver loving cup is to be bought by the two schools. As the debate was a tie each school will keep the cup six months, a coin being tossed to decide who will get it first. The first school winning the cup three times straight gets to keep the cup.

WAR UPON PAIN!

Pain is a visitor to every home and usually it comes quite unexpectedly. But you are prepared for every emergency if you keep a small bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy. It is the greatest pain killer ever discovered. Simply laid on the skin—no rubbing required—it drives the pain away. It is really wonderful.

Mervin H. Soister, Berkeley, Cal., writes: "Last Saturday, after tramping around the Panama Exposition with wet feet, I came home with my neck so stiff that I couldn't turn. I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. To my surprise, next morning the stiffness had almost disappeared, four hours after the second application I was as good as new." March, 1915. # SOCIETY

An interesting meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Sciotoville Christian church was held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Rider on Thursday afternoon, March 2nd, and in spite of the inclement weather a large number was present, very enthusiastically taking on new life and planning work for the future. They are preparing something special for St. Patrick's Day. Two new members, Mrs. Ed S. Gilliland and Mrs. Ed Rowley were taken into the society. Mr. Engelbert Nagel, 54 years old, was the only man present, and a mighty cheer went up when he presented the Aid with a dollar bill. Almost seven dollars were taken in. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Rowley, on April 6th.

Mrs. Ida Newman, formerly with the Style Shop, is now living dresses at 1029 Ninth street. Old patrons will receive cordial welcome. 26-61

The class taught by Miss Rose Kieffer in Trinity Methodist Sunday school will meet with Mrs. Frank F. Irwin, of 1307 Third street, Monday evening, March 6.

Miss Annette Price, of Sciotoville, is working as relief operator at the Sciotoville exchange of the Portsmouth Telephone company.

Mrs. Walter A. Bowman, of Pittsburgh, who has been spending a few days with local relatives, will leave Friday evening for her home.

Regardless of the inclemency of the weather, the sock social given at the First Christian church Thursday evening was well attended, and the good women of Section One, under whose auspices the affair was held, realized a financial harvest. Every person present had a most enjoyable time and more than secured their money's worth in refreshments. Each person attending the social was presented with a tiny sock as a souvenir of the occasion.

Section Three of the Woman's Union of the First Christian church was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. J. W. Hall, Seventeenth street, Thursday afternoon. At the conclusion of the business session the hostess, assisted by her two charming daughters, served delicious refreshments. The occasion was one of the most enjoyable in the history of this section, and the members will anxiously await the announcement of another session at the hospitable home of Mrs. Hall.

The Trinity Methodist King's Sons and Daughters held a delightful meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Monroe, on Officers street, where there were 27 present. After the regular business an excellent program was presented, as follows:

Piano—Mrs. Clarence Marshall. Vocal—Mr. Carl Harris. Recitation, "George Washington"—Harold Monroe. Vocal—Mrs. C. L. Strecker. Piano—Miss Genevieve Dupre. Missionary Reading—Miss Vesta Steadham.

I certainly would not write him again, neither would I send him any more pictures. If he did not receive the ones you sent him they would have come back to you. It looks to me like he is just fooling with you. At any rate, he is not acting like he was head-over-heels in love with you. Better transfer your attentions to one of your home-grown boys and forget about this Western lover.

SUNDAY "ROARS, SCREECHES AND HISSES" DEFIANCING AT HELL AND THE DEVIL

Billy Sunday has started a battle against sin at Baltimore. Over 40,000 people heard him the first day (Sunday) at three services. When the celebrated evangelist hurled defiance at the forces of evil in his first sermon, his huge audience stood up and cheered and sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The following is a Baltimore newspaper man's account of Sunday's opening services:

"In screeching defiance of the devil, hell and all the powers of evil, Billy Sunday threw down the gauntlet to sin at the very outset of his campaign yesterday morning."

"Climbing on a chair, just back of his table, he roared and hissed at his enemies, during them to come on, while the 16,000 souls before him in the tabernacle rose and cheered."

"To an even larger crowd at the afternoon services he reiterated his least of fearlessness, proclaimed his intention of putting Satan in the hospital before the fourth of July, handing the run interests the hot end of a poker, and cleaning up generally. Attacking the degradation of high society before the great throng at the night meeting, he preached the most thrilling, the most interesting and the most exciting sermon of the day."

"With a characteristic bang, Billy Sunday, always one to start things, has started things in Baltimore. The greatest evangelistic campaign this city has ever witnessed at last is underway. The months of preparation have been well spent, for now that he is here, his great organization is complete, and from now on Sunday will be at the iniquities of Baltimore, hammer and longs. If he keeps the pace he set for himself already—and those who are close to him say he will greatly surpass his first efforts—there unquestionably will be an army of traitors when he calls for converts later in the campaign."

"So complete a control of the vast throngs that heard him as yesterday he exhibited, was a profound marvel to all. At the close of his famous Grenadier sermon in the afternoon, he had worked the great crowd up to such a pitch of excitement that as one individual it rose to its feet, singing 'The Battle Hymn of the Republic,' waving hats and handkerchiefs and umbrellas and cheering at the prospect of a conflict with evil in which there was to be no fear, no treachery, only a whole-hearted army fighting for the gospel that Sunday preaches."

"It was no idle or sensational boast, no play for the gallery, that challenge to the prince of evil—Billy really believes there is such a creature—in the morning. It was his proclamation of war in Baltimore—his ultimatum to every influence and every individual arrayed against the Scriptures."

"Panting, hoarse and quivering with excitement, he seized a chair as one possessed and mounted it. In his eyes there was a fierce light, that beamed out over the rostrum and conveyed its message to all who watched him."

"I defy you!" he shrieked. "You have lived about me. Now I am here. Come on! Come on, you forces of iniquity in Baltimore that have made the church a sin. Come out! I defy the every dirty one of you. Come on, you traducers; come on, you triple extract of infamy; come on, you assassins of character; come on, you sponsors of harlotry; come on, you defamers of God and enemies of the church; come on, you bull-necked, beetle-browed, hog-jawed, peanut-brained, weasel-eyed four-flushers! You false-alarms and excess bugaboo! In the name of God, I challenge and defy you!"

"The man seemed overwhelmed with a fervor, an influence, that transfused him. His body was bent forward, his breath came in quick, short gasps. From his brow the perspiration ran in thick, swollen streams and his arms beat the air frantically."

"It's mighty easy to lie about a man when he isn't on the job," he snarled. "I'm here now for night weeks. Come on and I'll deliver the goods, express prepaid."

The above account of the Sunday meeting was sent by J. R. Seip, who said Evangelist Billy Sunday opened his Baltimore meeting in his usual successful manner. Mr. Seip is quite well known here, as it will be recalled that he married Miss Elizabeth Curry, daughter of T. J. Curry, formerly of this city. He has a responsible position with a big firm in Baltimore.

CITY IS COVERED WITH A BLANKET OF SNOW

Portsmouth experienced a genuine old-fashioned snowstorm last night and this morning, "mother earth" being covered by a blanket of "the beautiful."

Rain turned into snow early last evening and big, fleecy flakes began to fall in true mid-winter fashion. As the night wore on the mercury began dropping and the streets and sidewalks were soon covered. It snowed briskly this morning and according to Weather Observer Dr. Harry Schirrmann the snow fall amounted to 2½ inches up to 9:15 o'clock.

The snow caused very little inconvenience to the street railway company, who operated their cars on schedule time. A force of men kept the switches free of snow and ice last night and there was no interruption to traffic.

"We didn't know it had been snowing until this morning," the wire chief of the Home Telephone company said when asked if his firm's service had been affected by the snow fall.

The Bell Telephone company also reported no damage.

HEAD OF SUPPOSED MAD DOG SENT TO COLUMBUS

Word from Meatee, five miles from Friendship, Thursday, was that the dog which attacked Edward, five-year-old son of Tony Scott, had been sent to Columbus.

Owners are isolating their dogs pending the examination of the supposed mad dog's head, which was sent to Columbus.

FOREMAN IS KILLED

Ironton, March 2.—Struck by a car which was running up the incline at the Elma plant of the Mitting Iron and Steel company, Thursday afternoon, about 3:30 o'clock, Edward Lawless, a foreman of the plant, received injuries which caused his death less than a quarter of an hour later. The ambulance was hastily summoned, but death occurred as the carriage was speeding toward the hospital.

Edward Lawless was 65 years of age and resided on Pleasant street.

BONE IS FRACTURED

While on his way home Thursday evening Harold Parker, a shoemaker, who lives in the North End, slipped and fell near Ninth and Waller streets. His wrist left wrist pained him so much that he called a physician, who soon learned that Parker had fractured a small bone in his wrist.

Mr. Gergens Will Enter Drew Plant

William Gergens, former director of public service, has abandoned plans for engaging in the damaged shoe business for all Cincinnati and Columbus manufacturers he hoped to negotiate with are contracted ahead for several years. Mr. Gergens instead expects to enter the employ of the Irving Drew company next week. He will be in the wooden heel department and is considered an expert at this kind of work. Previous to becoming a public official Mr. Gergens worked for many years at the Selby Shoe factory.

Might Be Good Plan To Keep Them "In"

C. D. Rarey, field officer from the Ohio penitentiary, Columbus, arrived in Portsmouth Thursday evening to investigate two applications from Seito county for paroles. Mr. Rarey said Friday that he was looking after the case of James O'Connor, a tramp, sentenced to the institution from this county last year on a sodomy charge. The other case is that of John Williams, convicted of incest two years ago. Mr. Rarey said that this was one of the interesting cases at the institution. According to his statements, Williams served a nine months term several years ago on a charge of bigamy, being sentenced from the Pickaway county common pleas court. After being released he was arrested and charged with taking his daughter to Columbus for immoral purposes, by the Seito county authorities and later convicted.

Backache Just Like a Toothache!

Dear Mr. Editor—Sometime ago I had backache very bad; it would shoot like a toothache. I tried a new discovery of Doctor Pierce's, called "Anuric." This is for kidneys and backache. I soon felt relieved of all backache and had no more pain, and I hope others troubled in the same way will try this wonderful new remedy.

(Signed) MRS. LINCOLN STRAUS.

NOTE: It is now ascertained with confidence that these painful effects due to uric acid in the system are entirely eradicated. A new remedy, called "Anuric," has been discovered by Dr. Pierce, and is the cause of a drainage outward of the uric acid which it comes in contact with the body. It will ward off backache, headache, and the darting pains and aches of articular or muscular rheumatism—of those diseases which are caused by too much uric acid, such as gout, asthma, sciatica, renal calculus. "Anuric" prolongs life because old people usually suffer from hardening and thickening of the walls of the arteries, due to the excess of uric acid in the blood and tissues. Dr. Pierce, who is director and chief physician at the "Javala" Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has been testing this wonderful medicine for the relief of over-worked and weakened kidneys. The relief obtained by sufferers has been so satisfactory that he determined to place "Anuric" with the principal druggists in town where people could get this ready-to-use medicine. "Anuric" is not harmful or poisonous, but aids nature in throwing off those poisons within the body which cause so much suffering, pain and misery. Scientists assert this remedy is 10 times more potent than lithia.

Royal Neighbors

10,000 BABIES UNDER 1 YEAR DIE ANNUALLY

Columbus, O., March 3.—Infant death rates in Ohio have not decreased greatly in the past five years, despite popular campaigns for education of mothers.

Cleveland apparently was the most unhealthy city in the state for to 11,000. Intestinal trouble is the babies. Of the 2,593 babies born in most prevalent cause of early death.

This was the conclusion of the state health officers today, after partially compiling mortality figures for the state in 1915. They commended observation of the week, beginning tomorrow, as "Baby week," however for the reason that only in localities where similar educational movements have been encouraged, are infantile death rates showing regular decreases.

Cities apparently are forging ahead of the villages and country districts in the conservation of baby life. In the past five years death rates in the country have been virtually stationary, but in cities the rates have lowered gradually.

Columbus in 1915 made the most remarkable showing of any city in the United States in decrease of infantile death rate, according to state officials. The clutch of the new Maxwell operates in a bath of oil. This makes it remarkably smooth and velvety in engagement, and eliminates 80 per cent of noise when the gears are shifted. ## AND YET NEVERTHELESS

A citizen, who got his schooling in the country, attained prominence as an educator and is far above the ordinary in education, says with some emphasis, that the article The Times had sometime this week on school curricula was the finest thing in that line he ever read.

We allow him a little for exaggeration, because it must be we spoke exactly the views he himself holds on the subject, but we esteem his endorsement of sufficient worth to emphasize a most curious phase that is presented us in our public schools. Those who have gone through them, both as pupil and teacher, who have not stopped there, but in college and reading have acquired a broader scholarship, agree that there is waste, dreadful waste in education through stress sufficient not being laid upon some studies and valuable time being consumed on other that have no importance and scant usefulness; that the system is defective in the pupil getting a smattering of many things and a solid grounding in none. Yet, in the very face of this distinct trend all the time is to run to more fads, to put more things in the curriculum that are inconsequential in entirety and absolutely null in results.

We account for this that America is a government of the minority, the infinitely small minority, and not the colossal majority, so because the minority is up and doing in noise all the time and the majority is inert and voiceless. The mortal with an idea, of worth or worthlessness, is of no consequence, stunts on the houseposts and shouts to every passer-by and he gets a willing ear. He doesn't need to present a reason, all he has to do is to invoke the magic label of Progress, and believers and worshippers swarm in shoals. And it is more that way with education, as we call studying, than anything else. Lusty lungs never get too rusty to thunderously proclaim the schools as the bulwark of our liberties, a few load down the curriculum, with a forty dollar teacher in charge, with more studies and courses than the whole faculty of a college can master, and the masses and the tax-payers, sit back and let the process go on because, farsooth, they may be called old fogies.

As for our part, we would like the state to give every youth fair opportunity to acquire substantial attainment in reading, spelling, writing, arithmetic, grammar, geography and civil government. If the youth were a male we wouldn't let him vote without honest knowledge of the latter, and if a female, we make it a sentence her to be a lone old maid for the period of her natural life, if she affected to be a suffragette and yet couldn't tell why a congressman or a legislator—

BEYOND ALL PRECEDENT

The close of February witnessed the iron and steel industry at the period of its greatest expansion. This was true not only as to its activity but equally as well, in fact much better, as to its business present and future. The word from every furnace and mill was full up, with an avalanche of incoming orders. Some plants were sold as far as a year ahead and refusing to consider any offerings for fillment within that period. Of course, the whole market with more business in sight than could be taken care of and stiffening prices was optimistic, but the greatest feeling of elation was the decline in war orders and the tremendous increase of home demand. Railroads were especially insistent and persistent. Customers and this was looked upon as the very best augury for the future of all, though high satisfaction was found in growing structural and building specifications.

On the fact of it the guess is plausible that the voters thought there was something in that graft scandal in the Thompson administration. Come to think about it again, we don't think they do. Voters seldom concern themselves about such pillage and inefficiency in public office, it is the pregnant, vital matter of how the official cuts his hair and whether he speaks when he passes along the street that move them.

As a nation we not only do a thing, but we over do it

UNBELIEVABLE

MONEY AND STOCKS

According to the weekly review of the New York market and financial conditions by Henry Clewes, veteran banker, the general situation is satisfactory. Stocks have shown a depressed spirit, owing to the uncertainty of negotiations with Germany, the hullabaloo that was raised about the relations between President Wilson and congress and the steady pressure of foreign-held American securities for liquidation in this market.

The abnormal foreign import trade is showing considerable slackening, notably in munitions, cotton and food stuffs. This is looked upon as being rather desirable, since it makes the trade balance more within reasonable and controllable bounds. Money is plentiful on easy terms, notwithstanding the fact that this February shows the national banks have out "one billion, ten million dollars. Speculatively, a good part of this expansion has gone into purchase of stocks sent back from Europe, but there is no means of estimating even approximately how much. Neither is there eagerness or anxiety to know. Every share of stock liquidated from abroad, sold to a local holder, tends to adjust the gold equilibrium of the world markets, that for a time was seriously menaced by the extraordinary volume of war orders and a general stoppage of imports. Offsetting features in the prospect are a smaller area and the generally poor condition of the wheat throughout the northwest, with the railroads giving almost unprecedented orders with a capacity to pay for them and their generally healthy state.

Yesterday we were reminded of the first time we ever saw winter and spring battling for supremacy in Portsmouth. It was dark and drear and the atmosphere fairly oozed dampness. Our spirits became soggy like our clothes and we confess to a trifle of homesickness, a longing for the old home, where we can't recall a day that the sun didn't shine sometime; or anyway if it wanted to rain it rained in a genuine and hilarious sort of a way, a way that drove you to the gutter, where you could hear its patter on the roof making a melody next to that of the voices that singing in the rippling waters, not a vile, sneaking rain that drifted clear through your apparel, soaked into your shoes and oozed into the house, making it dark and dismal.

The Springfield Sun is authority for the statement that the state highway department will distribute to the counties $2,000,000 for building good roads. Where does the Sun get its authority for this statement? We want to know, you know. The Times has it in black and white from headquarters that it was to be about a billion less.

All we care to say is that so far March has shown a keen desire to live up to her reputation.

THE OLD TIME BOSS

One of the most zestful anecdotes we have read in a long time runs about this way: During a freshet a bridge of considerable size, over which passed the track of a Montana railroad, was washed away. The bridge engineer and his staff were ordered to the place at once to prepare plans and specifications for a new bridge. Two days later the division superintendent of the division came along in his special car. Alighting at the nearest station he ran across the old section boss "Mike." Said he: "Has the engineer got the plans ready for that new bridge across Gabori. It must be rushed through in a hurry as the company is losing money every hour it is out." "I don't know, sir, whether the engineer has them pictures drawn or not but me and my boys finished putting back that bridge last night and trains have been running over it for more than twelve hours."

Sure, we need protection. The net earnings of the DuPont Powder Company for the past year reached the puny proportions of only $57,890,738 for 1915.

If this country could build ships as fast as Germany sinks them we might soon be some pumpkins in the carrying commerce of the seas.

The war news fellows have been holding their breath for almost a week now. We may expect something to be turned loose about Sunday.

The last survivor of Gen. John C. Fremont's expedition to the northwest died Sunday, and already is his name forgot. Truth is we have never even heard it.

Mr. Wilson is sure putting one over on congress in insisting each member shall fish or cut bait. Nien, little dilemma some fellows find themselves in.

Jackson county is feeling the premonitory throbs of a gas and oil boom. We hope it will develop rapidly and linger long.

The supreme court seems to squint at the holding that an automobile has got to look out a trifle for the fellow ahead.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, March 3—How would man? Here it is: "Don't write and you like to come home at night to an apartment that has forty-four rooms and thirteen baths!"

That is what you would do if you were the New Yorker who has just leased a flat of that size for $25,000 a year at 420 Park avenue. It is in a new building that has only recently been completed and is the last word in apartments.

The lessee is not from Utah. He just has scads of money, and tiring of life in a big down town hotel, he decided to get a roomy place of his own, where he could stretch and all that sort of thing. There are four members of his family and there are three separate dancing rooms and an ice skating pavilion which can be frozen over in a short time. There is also a Turkish bath with a rubber in attendance at all hours. Also there is a miniature bar, where a mixologist with a record will do all that is required. In the concert room is almost every conceivable musical instrument and a big pipe organ which plays every morning. It will take about 15 servants to manage the establishment.

A few years ago Ed Morton was struggling along on $30 a week with a wife and family to support. Then Aladdin waved his lamp. It is the story of the new avenue of opportunity that has opened up in New York—that of song writing.

Morton has written such hits as "When You Were a Tulip," "On the Way to Mandalay," "If We Can't Be the Same Old Sweethearts," and the "Mother" song. The other day he purchased a loft building 10 stories high on West Fifty-second street.

A little farther down town is a sky-scraper that was recently purchased by Fred Stone, the actor. Vernon Castle, now off to dance the Germans to death, is said to have invested heavily in New York real estate just before he departed, and Amelia Bingham, the actress, is a large property owner.

Al Jolson has a new version of the old adage: "Do right and fear no."

BEGIN TO DRAIN LAKE ARM

Authorities Seeking To Find Hosey Girl's Hat Or Other Clues In Millbrook Mystery

Believing that it is absolutely necessary that the "arm" of Millbrook lake, where the body of Miss Estella Hosey was found, be dragged in a final effort to locate the victim's hat, which if recovered, would throw a new phase on the mysterious affair, a valve located just north of the old mill office near Millbrook park was opened Friday morning.

This will allow the water in the lake to recede to such a point that the "arm" near where the body was found can be almost drained by Henry Koger, caretaker of the park.

The work of dragging the lake was to be started late this afternoon by Mr. Koger. Action of this character was determined upon after Prosecuting Attorney Joseph Micklethwait and Coroner Dr. J. W. Daehler visited Millbrook Thursday afternoon and carefully went over the spot where Miss Hosey's body was found. They feel that if the lake is drained they may secure a tangible piece of evidence to work upon.

Mrs. Fred Roth, wife of Special Officer Roth at the Whitaker-Glessner steel plant, claims that she is quite sure that Estella Hosey was in Millbrook park the night of January 30. Mrs. Roth and young daughter live near the steel plant office and about 6:45 Sunday evening of January 30 were on their way to the New Boston Baptist church when Mrs. Roth saw two persons near the pavilion. Mrs. Roth and daughter had just crossed the "Y" bridge and were in front of the pavilion when she heard and saw a couple at the rear or southwest end of the pavilion. She could plainly see the man and the other person who she says dodged into the shadow of a post, was a woman about the size of the Hosey girl. "The man was quarreling with his companion and seemed to be scolding her, from the sound of his voice. We were frightened and ran back home," said Mrs. Roth. "We were so scared I did not pay any attention to what they were saying and did not think anything more of the matter until the body of the girl was pulled from the lake. I told my husband the morning the body was taken from the lake that the people who were in the park that night must have had something to do with the case. The man seemed to be doing all the talking," said Mrs. Roth, who has told her story to a large number of friends. She also told her story to a private detective several days ago.

Coroner Dr. J. W. Daehler is still awaiting the findings of the detectives engaged on the case before fixing a time for holding an inquest and Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait had nothing to give out for publication Friday.

Opals. Opals are so sensitive that their beauty is frequently destroyed by their wearers' proximity to an open fire. The luster of this stone is caused by the presence of myriads of little fissures, which deflect the light into the characteristic prismatic color of the gem. The finest of these fissures is likely at any moment to destroy the stone.

OUTLOOK GOOD FOR NEW DEPOT HERE THIS YEAR

That the prospect for a new depot at Portsmouth, built by the N. & W., is growing brighter, is evidenced by the following quotation from a letter received by a member of the Board of Trade committee, which is negotiating with the N. & W. regarding the depot:

"I have yours of the 29th ult., and will be glad to consider the location and proposition you made in regard to new station. We have taken up the matter of a new passenger station for Portsmouth just now in a very earnest way, and we hope to do something this year."

Yours very truly,
M. D. Maher.

Mr. Maher is the first vice-president of the Norfolk & Western Railway company, and the local committee and citizens in general have every reason to be optimistic over the outlook, considering the tenor of Mr. Maher's letter.

A Versatile Scientist. Since Sir David Brewster in September, 1831, with the help of a few colleagues gathered together at the archiepiscopal palace at York, founded the British Association for the Advancement of Science, many great scientists have addressed the annual meeting. None among them, however, can have eclipsed the founder in the high qualities that make the born scientist. He found time, in the middle of researches into the mystery of light, to invent the kaleidoscope and play the part of a pioneer in photography, as well as to write innumerable magazine articles with a regularity that would have made him the favorite of the most ardent editor.—London Express.

NEW INCORPORATION IS STEP TOWARD AUTOMOBILE FUNERALS IN THIS CITY

For the purpose of increasing its taxi-cab service, baggage service, and to eventually install autos to be used for funeral services, the Independent Taxi-cab company was incorporated for $10,000 at Columbus, Friday.

The incorporators are J. B. Frostick, P. A. Frostick, Delmar Miller, Earl Gray and Harmon Stegall. "We will meet for organization the first of the week," J. B. Frostick said Friday. "We are already making changes in our garage on Ninth street to accommodate the new equipment we will order at once."

Origin of the Word "Pagan." The Latin word from which pagan is derived originally meant a fountain or spring; then the village which sprang up around it, and finally the residents of the village. As Christianity took strong root at first in the large centers of population and the worship of the pagan deities lingered longest in the country and among the country villages, it came to be understood that a pagan or villager was, in virtue of his residence, a worshiper of the old gods, and thus the term acquired its present significance.

THEATRICAL

THEATRICAL

The Sun
Osman's Musical Comedy opened a three days' engagement at the Sun theatre yesterday matinee to good business. The company is all that Manager Lee promised. To say they gave satisfaction is putting it mild, owing to the applause received and the many encores received during the run of the comedy.

The quartet singers, composed of three gentlemen and one lady, was a decided hit, as the audience was loathe to let them go. The comedy was well taken care of by Mr. Thomas McCracken and Frank Baker, and their comedy was clean and up-to-date and called for many hearty laughs. The chorus comes in for special mention, as it is composed of pretty young ladies that can sing and dance. The costuming and staging of the play is all that can be desired.

Tonight's first show is the country store. Many useful gifts will be given away.

Saturday a special matinee will be given for the children. Each child attending will receive a bag of candy. Entire change of bill tonight. New songs, scenic effects and costumes.

The Sun
The New York Times' Enthusiastic Praise of "A Pair of Sixes" There has probably never been a play produced in New York City that received such glowing, bubbling criticisms as that given by the ordinarily very-hard-to-please metropolitan critics to Manager H. H. Frazee's production of Edward Peple's farce, "A Pair of Sixes" at the Longacre theatre, New York.

The opening paragraph of the criticism in the New York Times, (that most conservative of metropolitan papers) was so unusual that it is worth quoting: "When the curtain fell at the end of the first act of the new farce that came to the Longacre theatre last evening, it seemed too good to be true that playwright and players could keep up fun all evening at so fast and furious a pace. But it was true."

This new farce will be seen at the Sun, Tuesday evening, March 7th with a cast of unusual excellence. Seat sale opens Saturday 9 a. m. at box office.

The Mouths of Leaven.

The botanist, the real investigator who has got down to making real explorations for himself, will talk to you about the thousands of minute stomates on the surface of a leaf. These invisible stomates are really the mouths through which the leaves take in carbonic acid. They are most abundant on the upper surface of leaves. Each is an oval opening guarded by a pair of lips which open and close according to requirements. They vary from less than 1,000 to more than 20,000 to the square inch of leaf surface.

It has long ago been discovered that after produced by the melting of glaciers in summer flows down through ravines to the bottom of the glacier and, forming a channel by erosion, merges often as a large stream. In the arctic region these phenomena take place on a very large scale. The Danish expedition to the northeast of Greenland, conducted by Stylius and Irshoven, discovered and explored vast streams thus formed by glacial streams. Some of these canyons are sixty to seventy feet in height and more than a mile long. In winter the streams cease flowing, but the caverns or tunnels remain ready to receive the streams of the following summer.

FORMER PORTSMOUTH MAN IS WEDDED AT ELK CLUB ON ISLAND IN THE PACIFIC

News of the wedding of a former Portsmouth boy, Mr. Earl J. Schmitt, who was formerly employed as a machinist in the plant of the Seltzer Shoe company, has reached Portsmouth relatives and friends. Mr. Schmitt was married to Miss Dolores Herrero, their wedding being solemnized on the Guam Island, a United States possession in the Pacific ocean, and was said to be one of the prettiest that has ever taken place there.

The bridegroom is in the employ of the United States government and is located at Agaña. While a resident of this city Mr. Schmitt resided on Offene street, near Severn.

The following account of his wedding has been received by Portsmouth relatives and friends:

"The wedding of Mr. Earl J. Schmitt and Miss Dolores Herrero took place on December 4th, 1915, at the Elks' Club in Agaña. The club was very beautifully decorated for the occasion and the wedding was one of the prettiest Guam has ever witnessed.

"Promptly at six o'clock the bridal party entered the hall to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by the Station orchestra. First came the ushers, Messrs. Murray, Kimball, Howell and Windsor.

Following them was the matron of honor, Mrs. R. C. Gibson. Then came the bridesmaids, Misses Magdalena and Carmen Herrero, sisters of the bride; two flower girls, Miss Alice Davis and Florence Herrero, followed, scattering flowers in the path of the bride, who entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Vicente Herrero, who gave her away. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. R. C. Gibson, and the beautiful and impressive Episcopalian service was read by Miss Brooks, of the Mission church. The ceremony was performed under a huge bell of flowers and ferns.

"The bride wore a gown of dainty crepe moiré with silver spangles and silk shadow lace, adorned with orange blossoms. The train was draped with white silk tulle, and the veil was caught together at the side of the forehead with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden-hair ferns. The matron of honor wore a beautiful gown of light blue silk chiffon with gold threads, carrying a large bouquet of lilies. The bridesmaids wore elaborate gowns of pink silk, with large black picture hats. They carried bouquets of oleanders.

Following the ceremony there was a large reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vicente Herrero, followed by dancing at the Elks' Club. The couple received many handsome and useful presents.

"The bride is a pretty and accomplished girl and a member of Guam's oldest and most respected families. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Schmitt, of Columbus, O., and is in the employ of the government in Agaña.

"The guests at the wedding included most of the service and civilian population of the colony.

"The Schmitts have gone to house-keeping in Agaña and have the best wishes of all for a long and happy married life."

How to Heal Skin-Diseases

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable drugstore get a jar of resitol ointment and a cake of resitol soap. These are not at all expensive. With the resitol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resitol ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the itching and burning stop with the first treatment and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

Almost any soap will clean the skin and hair. But those who want a soap which not only cleanses but actually helps the complexion and hair are wise to choose resitol soap.

Girl Falls, Ankle May Be Fractured

A fall sustained by Miss Jean Clark, aged 18 years, daughter of Police Chief Henry Clark, at the Portsmouth high school building shortly after the noon hour, Thursday, is thought to have resulted in a fracture of her right ankle.

Miss Clark was descending the stairway leading to the basement along with other members of the physical culture class. The stairway is rather dark and in making a mis-step, thinking she had reached the bottom step, the girl fell. First aid was rendered to her and the foot bandaged and rather than miss any of her studies Miss Clark remained at school for the remainder of the afternoon. With characteristic pluck she walked to her home at 1546 Ninth street, after the injury.

GENUINE MUSICAL TREAT ENJOYED BY THE MASONS

Despite the inclement weather, three hundred and fifty Masons, their immediate families and friends gathered at the spacious club rooms, Masonic Temple and enjoyed the annual entertainment, given by Aurora lodge No. 48 F. & A. M. As early as 7:30 the guests began to arrive. The reception committee was composed of William E. Clayton, D. A. Grimes and William F. Zottman.

By eight o'clock the handsomely appointed lodge room was filled. And a few minutes later, Robert G. Bryan stepped to the facade, just in front of the organ and introduced Prof. John Yoskley, organist at Christ's church and the Scottish Rite Temple, Cincinnati; Prof. John A. Roberts, noted singer of the Queen City and J. Adam Burkel, one of the best known singers in this city.

Under the master touch of the organist, the full sweet cadence of the organ captivated the audience. The rich tenor voice of Prof. Roberts and the deep clear basso voice of J. Adam Burkel, produced a program that was a genuine treat to the music lovers of Portsmouth.

The program was as follows: Festival March by Read. Elegy by Messner. Humoresque by Devorak. Coronation March by Meyer.

Cradle Song by Jarnefelt. Sextet from "Lucia". Postlude in D by Rinck. The Evening Star by Wagner. Solos by J. Adam Burkel. Love's Trinity. Drink to me With Thine Eyes. Solos by Prof. John A. Roberts. Whisper and I Shall Hear. Who Knows. Could I But Tell You. Dreaming of You. The Little Grey Home in the West.

The End of a Perfect Day. Absence. I Hear You Calling Me. Take Me With You In Your Dreams.

After the concert, which terminated about 9:30 o'clock, the large banquet room was opened for the dancers. It was not long until the floor was crowded with "trippers of the light fantastic." Anderson's Trio furnished the music. At the witching hour, "Home Sweet Home" was played and the guests retired to their respective homes happy in the thought of a well spent evening.

The committee on arrangements was composed of L. W. Bragdon, Harry Johnson, W. B. Altman, James D. Williams and W. M. Thomas.

Admit Guilt

George Johnson and Jake and William De Hill, the Portsmouth young men rounded up here by Police Chief Mayne, of Ironton, pleaded guilty in police court in Ironton, Thursday, to having stolen two bicycles from Henry Radman and one from William Barnett and Mr. Townsend. They were bound over to the grand jury and sent to jail under $200 bond, which they were unable to furnish. The wheels, which were also recovered at the time the arrests were made, were returned to their owners.

The Real Albanians.
South of Valona lies the only part of Albania where the people call themselves Albanians, or something like it. It is said, according to Sir Charles Elliot, that the names Arberet and Arberet are applied to this region and its inhabitants. The natives of the rest of the country know what is meant when Turks speak of Arbanas and Europeans of Albanians, but they do not use this name themselves, preferring to be called Shkypetar, which means eagle men. Northern Albanians are also generally known as Ghegs, southern Albanians as Tosks, but these names are considered not quite complimentary.—London Telegraph.

Bread Leavened With Snow.
The use of fresh dry snow as a leavening agent is not new, but the way in which it acts seems to be misunderstood to some extent. The popular explanation is that the raising of the dough is due to ammonia in the snow. As a matter of fact, snow contains but a very slight amount of free ammonia, probably not more than one part in a million. This quantity is, of course, by far too small to cause any expansion of the dough. The leavening action is due to the entrapped air in the snow. The air expands on heating to several times its original volume, thus expanding the dough. Steam is formed at the same time and aids in the rising process.—Exchange.

Off Guard.
"Your honor," declared the petitioner, "I heard a awful yell" back in the wagon yard, and when I got there this man was beating his wife. The had just drove in from Grant park." Judge Broderick turned sharply on the prisoner, a tall, gaunt man, with clay colored complexion.
"Is this true? Were you beating your wife, sir?" the judge demanded.
"Yes, your honor."
"How did you come to it?"
"I don't know, Judge. For twenty years she aint been the one what did the beating, but I jist happened to catch her when she wasnt feeling right."—Case and Comment.

A Definition.
Little Elmer-Papa, what is hope? Professor Broadhead—Hope, my son, is what we have left.—Exchange.

The Movies

MADLINE TRAVERSE
Appearing in "Three Weeks,"
Elmer Glyn's Enthralling Love
Drama, Columbia Tonight and Tomorrow

"Three Weeks" has been the most discussed novel of the past decade. Its beauty has been critically conceded and its drama admitted by the most conservative. Paul, the wooer of a runaway queen, has taken his place among the heroes of fiction that men refer to with interest and women with admiration. Sonia, the royal mate of a dissolute monarch, young, alluring, adventurous, is now a modern symbol of a love that scorches to count the cost.

The story in its novel form has been read by more than eighty million people. It is a fair estimate to presume that more than eight times eighty million will wish to see the film realization of the brilliant romance that ends in an unusual tragedy. Readers of the book are familiar with the details that go to comprise the fascinating narrative of the original.

In the film play the author has added to her creation in a prologue that intensifies the thrill of some of her scenes and adds color and vivacity to others.

Sonia runs away from her castle and her king after the manner described in the book. She encounters Paul in the restaurant in Lucerne, Switzerland, precisely as recounted in the novel. The two, a queen without a country and a king without a throne—fall madly in love. She struggles against her enthrallment, and seeks to flee from temptation. But an accident halts her flight and the inevitable next meeting occurs.

In the photoplay version all these incidents are idealized. The tiger ring tryst of the pair in the queen's apartment in Lucerne is reproduced as in the novel. The thrilling and tragic denouement of the romance of the pair is shown in all its original gripping power. The oracles of the disoluted king, the mad revels in the palace, the plots and counterplots of the cabal of royal counselors to

Why Tolerate Catarrh?

You have noticed no doubt, that any cold aggravates nasal catarrh, and the flow of mucus amazes you that such objectionable matter could find lodgment in your head. To ignore this catarrh when the cold subsides is wrong because it continues to slowly injure the delicate linings of the nasal passages and clog them up.

To correct catarrh, cleanse the nostrils frequently with a solution of warm water and salt, insert vasoline on retiring, and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals for one month. Scott's acts through the blood to feed the tissues, and contains soothing glycerine to check the inflammation and heal the sensitive membranes. Scott's is pleasant to take.

TAKE MAGNESIA AFTER MEALS TO STOP INDIGESTION

Bisurated Magnesia Sweetens
Sour Acid Stomach and Stops
All Distress in Five Minutes

People who have acid indigestion, seem to find most everything they eat disagrees with them and are troubled with sour or burning sensation and formation of gas in stomach. They should drop digestive aids and get from The Fisher & Streich Pharmacy or any druggist a few ounces of ordinary pure Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This would promptly neutralize the excess acid, sweeten the stomach contents and their food would digest properly and painlessly. Its great to forget all about indigestion, to be able to eat big meals and enjoy them and never a pain to follow. Yet a lot of long faced folks who suffer from stomach trouble continually and have to say, "no thank you" to most everything on the table can get healthy digestion easily and quickly by using Bisurated Magnesia to sweeten their acid stomachs. For correcting stomach acidity do not take Magnesia in any form but Bisurated.

de throne the queen are all graphically indicated.

Miss Madeline Traversé, who appears in the role of the temperamental queen, is regarded as one country's younger stars. Mr. Mahlon Hamilton, who plays the role of Paul, is one of the most popular leading players of the native stage.

The first show will start promptly at 1:30, then at 3, 4:30, 6, 7:30 and 9. The admission is 15 cents either afternoon or evening and you had better come in the afternoon to avoid the evening rush.

"Tongues of Men" With Constance Collier At Lyric Tonight.
Harold Lockwood Tomorrow

Harold Lockwood and May Allison in an intensely gripping romance "Lull of the Sea," will be the feature at the Lyric tomorrow. The story is exceptionally good and the scenes of tropical splendor are wonderfully pretty.

Constance Collier in "Tongues of Men," Paramount, at Lyric Today

Constance Collier is one of the most brilliant figures among the younger of the English speaking stage. When Maeterlinck's "Monna Vanna" was first produced in England, after being banned for more than ten years by the censor, one of the literary and artistic events of the past decade, Constance Collier was the actress chosen as the star. It was a significant recognition of her rank; a rank fairly won through her illustrious career at His Majesty's and other theatres as star in some of the finest things the English stage has ever done. She is the last surviving member of one of the oldest and best known stage families of Great Britain. She was playing Shakespeare when she was only eight years old, was the star for whom Hall Caine's "The Rival City" was especially adapted for the stage, and since coming to America has become an equally a favorite in New York, Chicago, and other centers that her popularity is distinctly international.

"The Tongues of Men," one of the smartest, most significant plays the Oliver Marasco Photoplay company has ever produced, provides Constance Collier a worthy vehicle for her first appearance upon the screen. This Edward Childs Carpenter story of Grand Opera and the church, a great stage success in itself, has never been better presented than with dark, Oriental beauty and personal majesty of Constance Collier to lead it lustre.

LIQUOR

Parkersburg, W. Va., March 3.—Application for an injunction to restrain the Kanawha Traction and Electric company from carrying liquor as personal baggage was denied in the circuit court here yesterday. The company operates a line between here and Marietta, O., which is a "wet" town. The court held that if liquors are carried into the state for unlawful purposes, the criminal statutes are adequate remedy to correct the abuses.

ELECTROCUTED
FOR MURDER
OF HIS WIFE

Ossining, N. Y., March 3.—Walter Watson, of Brooklyn, was electrocuted at Sing Sing this morning for the murder of his wife a year ago. Watson, who protested his innocence to the last, left a sealed envelope to be opened after his death. In it was found a faded flower and this note:

"This envelope contains a flower from my dear wife's grave. Please bury it with me and let it be on my breast. It is a token of remembrance of the wife I always loved and may God rest our souls in peace."

Watson was separated from his wife at the time of the murder, which he was supposed to have committed while under the influence of drink.

Dr. Smith
In Accident

Dr. W. W. Smith, local health officer, started down street in his automobile Friday morning, but he did not get very far. Near Robinson avenue and Clay street his machine skidded and crashed into the curb, the right front wheel being torn off. The machine was taken to a garage for repairs.

Apples and Morality.
Coteridge would have been in sympathy with the prison governor who regarded a liking for apples as indicative of moral soundness. "No men can be a pure mind who refuse apple lumps," he said, and Coteridge's friend, Charles Lamb, who reports this saying, adds: "I am not certain but he is right. With the decay of my first innocence, I confess a less and less relish for those luscious cakes. There is a physiological character in the taste for food. The whole vegetable life has lost its lust with me. Only still sick to appetite, which will seem to inspire gentle thoughts."—London Mail.

Inspiration.
"Now, son, take this message quickly, will you?"
"Sure, boss," said the messenger boy.
"Just imagine you are a dauntless hero on the villain's trail."—Pittsburgh Post.

Gold Leaf.
A floor fourteen feet square might be covered with a single ounce of gold leaf.

THOUSANDS IN DIAMONDS
STOLEN BY "CUSTOMER"

Chicago, March 3.—The theft of diamonds said to be valued at more than $25,000 from Dreier and Company, jewelers, was reported to the police early today. A well dressed man is said to have entered the store yesterday afternoon and asked to see some diamond rings. Three trays were brought out each containing twelve rings. After ten minutes conversation with Manager Smith over the prospective merits of the rings, the customer left the place declaring himself dissatisfied.

Smith says he accompanied the stranger to the door, and when he returned one of the trays with the diamonds was missing.

MAYOR ISSUES WARNING TO THE TAXI DRIVERS

A warning to taxi drivers that they will find themselves paying fines if they persist in driving their machines about the streets at the rate of 50 miles per hour at all hours of the night, was handed out by Mayor Kaps in police court Friday.

The mayor also insisted upon a strict adherence to the rules laid down by the police officials forbidding the driving of taxis down Tenth street to in front of the station when trains are standing there and discharging passengers and also for each company to have but one solicitor on the ground.

The mayor's warning came during the hearing of Thomas Adams, an Independent Company taxi driver charged with disregarding the order to drive on the depot premises when a train was standing there. Adams admitted his guilt but said he had simply obeyed the instructions of his employer, J. B. Frostick. The mayor dismissed him but warned him that he would be fined next time, regardless of whether or not his boss told him.

The mayor said he wanted understood that he did not want to stir up any trouble with the taxi managers or drivers but he wanted them to treat him right, too, which they could best do by strictly observing the rules laid down to them. Adams, before leaving, informed the mayor that the Interstate company had two solicitors at the depot for the past several nights. He was assured that notice would be taken of it.

Milt Hayslip was the name given by a man arrested Thursday evening for trying to force entrance to several homes in the vicinity of Seventh and Market streets. He was intoxicated and is thought to have simply become lost. He had two bottles of whiskey upon him, a watch and some valuable papers. In court Friday he claimed to be an Adams county merchant. He was fined $5 and paid out.

A stove foundryman giving the name of Frank Schaefer was fined $5 fine for drunkenness but it was suspended on condition that he leave before the day ended, for fromton, where he said he had hopes of securing employment. Schaefer had come to headquarters Thursday night for lodging but the officers in charge noting his condition placed a charge against him.

SENATE IN SESSION-LEADERS FIGHTING TO PUT IT ON RECORD SUPPORTING WILSON'S POLICY ALLIES SCORE ON WESTERN FRONT

BATTLE LINES DRAWN IN THE UPPER HOUSE

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Senate leaders who stand with President Wilson in his assertion of the right of American citizens to travel on armed merchant ships went into today's session determined that all doubt as to the senate's support of the president in the controversy with Germany should be swept away at once. Confident that they had a majority of more than two to one, they prepared to bring immediately to a vote a motion to table and thereby forever kill the resolution of Senator Gore warning Americans not to take passage on vessels carrying arms.

The decision to seek a showdown in the senate today was reached late yesterday after the agitation for a warning resolution had been brought to a dramatic climax in an historic debate by the declaration of Senator Gore that he had heard a report that the president had told congressional leaders in the conference at the White House last night that a war with Germany might not be "an evil to this republic." Senators Stone and Kern, who had attended the conference immediately denied that the president had said anything that might be so construed, and the denial was reiterated in a White House statement.

A tabling motion was decided on as the best means for final disposal of the Gore resolution when it came up today. Such a motion shuts off debate which leaders of both parties regard as undesirable and likely aggravate the embarrassment which the president has complained of as resulting from congressional agitation. Administration senators declared as the session began that barely a score of negative votes would be recorded and opposition leaders were convinced they had no chance of winning.

While the plans for ending the agitation once and for all in the senate were shaping up, leaders on the house side discussed how the same end might be accomplished there. The problem was to frame a resolution that the foreign affairs committee would report. The majority of the committee members are avowedly opposed to reporting any warning resolution, and when a committee meeting adjourned yesterday they still were talking of substitutes and compromise. It was understood last night that Chairman Flood was to undertake to ascertain whether the house would be satisfied with a resolution providing that the McInerney warning proposal should be tabled, and putting the house on record as recognizing the right of the executive to conduct the administration's foreign affairs.

The committee adjourned until 12:30 this afternoon by which time it was expected the issue would have been disposed finally in the senate. Administration leaders were confident that action in the house acceptable to the president would be forced without much further delay.

It was recently reported that the Portuguese government, after requisitioning all the German and Austrian ships lying in the Portuguese harbors had given orders that all Teuton vessels in the Portuguese colonies had likewise been taken over and put under the Portuguese flag.

FATHER ASKS PERMISSION TO KILL DEFORMED BABY

Des Moines, March 3.—The action of Dr. Harry J. Haiselden, of Chicago, in permitting the death of the deformed Bollinger baby several weeks ago was recalled today in this city by Charles Cleveland, a laborer, who asked the chief of police for assistance in killing his two months' old daughter.

Cleveland spoke with discouraged earnestness. "Chief," he said, "won't you tell me how I can kill my baby so it won't be against the law. Maybe you'll help me so it will be all right like that baby in Chicago."

"What's that," said it again, gasped the chief. "You see," went on Cleveland, "this baby hasn't any regular mouth at all and the doctors say that she might not ever be able to eat regular food, and, chief, she has fits all the time, and my wife she does nothing but cry all the time, and she's sick. So I asked the doctors to kill the baby, but they wouldn't because they said the police wouldn't let them, so I came to ask you if you'd help me to do it all regular."

THOUSANDS IN DIAMONDS STOLEN BY "CUSTOMER"

Chicago, March 3.—The theft of diamonds said to be valued at more than $25,000 from Dreicer and Company, jewelers, was reported to the police early today. A well dressed man is said to have entered the store yesterday afternoon and asked to see some diamond rings. Three trays were brought out each containing twelve rings. After ten minutes conversation with Manager Smith over the prospective merits of the rings, the customer left the place declaring himself dissatisfied. Smith says he accompanied the stranger to the door, and when he returned one of the trays with the diamonds was missing.

'NOTHER PRIZE READY TO DART INTO U. S. PORT

New York, March 3.—A report that the lights did not belong to British cruisers as these patrol ships make no secret of their movements.

On January 23, Captain Munkewitz said when he was practically in the same position several white lights were observed to the east. These lights merely flashed into view and then vanished and were succeeded by a green light from a vessel which crossed the bows of the Grayson, exchanging signals with the ship to the east in the Morse code. It was a few days after that the Appian took refuge in Hampton Roads. Captain Munkewitz said heavy weather and clouds prevailed off the Virginia coast and that he saw the vessels whose lights he had seen were trying to keep their movements secret. He felt that the lights did not belong to British cruisers as these patrol ships make no secret of their movements.

ALLOWED TO CARRY LIQUOR

Parkersburg, W. Va., March 3.—Application for an injunction to restrain the Kanawha Traction and Electric company from carrying liquor as personal baggage was denied in the circuit court here yesterday. The company operates a line between here and Marietta, O., which is a "wet" town. The court held that if liquors are carried into the state for unlawful purposes, the criminal statutes are adequate remedy to correct the abuses.

TRAIN CRASH KILLS FIVE

Albany, March 3.—Three men are known to have been killed and it is believed two more are dead in a wreck in the North Albany yards of the New York Central railroad here this morning. A heavy freight, east bound, was in rear end collision with a passenger train, telescoping two coaches. The train crew of the passenger train was in the rear coach. No passengers were aboard.

BILLS ARE READY

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Congress will have before it within the next few days, or possibly tomorrow, the first of the national defense measures. This was forecast today as a result of the rapid progress made on the army bills in the house and senate and military committees. The house committee reached a final agreement late yesterday on its bill, and the senate committee planned to take a final vote on the bill today.

Steps already have been taken to press the two measures to an early conclusion in both houses. The house bill, as finally approved, calls for an increase in the army to a total peace strength of approximately seven hundred thousand men. This would include 170,000 regulars, 425,000 national guardsmen, and about 100,000 federal volunteers.

BRITISH AND FRENCH ARE VICTORIOUS

London, March 3.—The British official statement issued says: "We recaptured the trenches at the bluff of the Ypres-Comme canal which were lost February 14 and also captured a small section in the German line."

Paris, March 3.—German attacks of great violence, both artillery and infantry have been repulsed to the north of Verdun. The official statement issued by the French war office says that fierce infantry assaults have been repulsed by French troops, whose fire decimated the ranks of the enemy.

ELECTROCUTED FOR MURDER OF HIS WIFE

Ossining, N. Y., March 3.—Walter Watson, of Brooklyn, was electrocuted at Sing Sing this morning for the murder of his wife a year ago. Watson, who protested his innocence to the last, left a sealed envelope to be opened after his death. In it was found a faded flower and this note:

"This envelope contains a flower from my dear wife's grave. Please bury it with me and let it be on my breast. It is a token of remembrance of the wife I always loved and may God rest our souls in peace."

Watson was separated from his wife at the time of the murder, which he was supposed to have committed while under the influence of drink.

Apples and Morality.
Cokeridge would have been in sympathy with the prison governor who reported a liking for apples as indicative of moral soundness. "No man can have a pure mind who refuses apples," he said, and Cokeridge's friend, Charles Lamb, who reports this saying, adds: "I am not certain but he is right. With the decay of my first innocence, I confess a less and less robust daily for those innocuous rates. There is a physiological character in the apples for food. The whole vegetable tribe has lost its lust with me. Only I still stick to asparagus, which still seems to inspire gentle thoughts."—London Mail.

AND YET NEVERTHELESS

A citizen, who got his schooling in the country, attained prominence as an educator and is far above the ordinary in education, says with some emphasis, that the article The Times had sometime this week on school curriculums was the finest thing in that line he ever read.

We allow him a little for exaggeration, because it must be we spoke exactly the views he himself holds on the subject, but we esteem his endorsement sufficient worth to emphasize a most curious phase that is presented us in our public schools. Those who have gone through them, both as pupil and teacher, who have not stopped there, but in college and reading have acquired a broader scholarship, agree that there is waste, dreadful waste in education through stress sufficient not being laid upon some studies and valuable time being consumed on other that have no importance and scant usefulness; that the system is defective in the pupil getting a smattering of many things and a solid grounding in none. Yet, in the very face of this distinct trend all the time is to run to more facts, to put more things in the curriculum that are inconsequential in entirely and absolutely null in results.

We account for this that America is a government of the minority, the infinitely small minority, and not the colossal majority, so because the minority is up and doing in noise all the time and the majority is inert and voiceless. The mortal with an idea, of worth or worthlessness, is of no consequence, stands on the house-tops and shouts to every passer-by and he gets a willing ear. He doesn't need to present a reason, all he has to do is to invoke the magic label of Progress, and believers and worshippers swarm in shoals. And it is more that way with education, as we call studying, than anything else. Lusty lungs never get too rusty to thunderously proclaim the schools as the bulwark of our liberties, a few lead down the curriculum, with a forty dollar teacher in charge, with more studies and courses than the whole faculty of a college can master, and the masses and the tax-payers, sit back and let the process go on because, forsooth, they may be called old fogies.

As for our part, we would like the state to give every youth fair opportunity to acquire substantial attainment in reading, spelling, writing, arithmetic, grammar, geography and civil government. If the youth were a male we wouldn't let him vote without honest knowledge of the latter, and if a female, we make it a sentence her to be a lone old maid for the period of her natural life, if she affected to be a suffragette and yet couldn't tell why a congressman or a legislator.

BEYOND ALL PRECEDENT

The close of February witnessed the iron and steel industry at the period of its greatest expansion. This was true not only as to its activity but equally as well, in fact much better, as to its business present and future. The word from every furnace and mill was full up, with an avalanche of incoming orders. Some plants were sold as far as a year ahead and refusing to consider any offerings for fillment within that period. Of course, the whole market with more business in sight than could be taken care of and stiffening prices was optimistic, but the greatest feeling of elation was the decline in war orders and the tremendous increase of home demand. Railroads were especially insistent and persistent customers and this was looked upon as the very best augury for the future of all, though high satisfaction was found in growing structural and building specifications.

On the fact of it the guess is plausible that the voters thought there was something in that graft scandal in the Thompson administration. Come to think about it again, we don't think they do. Voters seldom concern themselves about such pillage and inefficiency in public office, it is the pregnant, vital matter of how the official cuts his hair and whether he speaks when he passes along the street that move them.

As a nation we not only do a thing, but we over do it

UNBELIEVABLE

MONEY AND STOCKS

According to the weekly review of the New York market and financial conditions by Henry Clewes, veteran banker, the general situation is satisfactory. Stocks have shown a depressed spirit, owing to the uncertainty of negotiations with Germany, the hullabaloo that was raised about the relations between President Wilson and congress and the steady pressure of foreign-held American securities for liquidation in this market.

The abnormal foreign import trade is showing considerable slackening, notably in munitions, cotton and food stuffs. This is looked upon as being rather desirable, since it makes the trade balance more within reasonable and controllable bounds. Money is plentiful on easy terms, notwithstanding the fact that this February shows the national banks have out "one billion," ten million dollars. Speculatively, a good part of this expansion has gone into purchase of stocks sent back from Europe, but there is no means of estimating even approximately how much. Neither is there eagerness or anxiety to know. Every share of stock liquidated from abroad, sold to a local holder, tends to adjust the gold equilibrium of the world markets, that for a time was seriously menaced by the extraordinary volume of war orders and a general stoppage of imports. Offsetting features in the prospect are a smaller area and the generally poor condition of the wheat throughout the northwest, with the railroads giving almost unprecedented orders with a capacity to pay for them and their generally healthy state.

Yesterday we were reminded of the first time we ever saw winter and spring battling for supremacy in Portsmouth. It was dark and drear and the atmosphere fairly oozed dampness. Our spirits became soggy like our clothes and we confess to a trifle of home sickness, a longing for the old home, where we can't recall a day that the sun didn't shine sometime; or anyway if it wanted to rain it rained in a genuine and hilarious sort of a way, a way that drove you to the garret, where you could hear its patter on the roof making a melody next to that of the voices that singing in the rippling waters, not a vile, sneaking rain that drifted clear through your apparel, soaked into your shoes and oozed into the house, making it dark and dismal.

The Springfield Sun is authority for the statement that the state highway department will distribute to the counties $2,600,000 for building good roads. Where does the Sun get its authority for this statement? We want to know, you know. The Times has it in black and white from headquarters that it was to be about a million less.

All we care to say is that so far March has shown a keen desire to live up to her reputation.

THE OLD TIME BOSS

One of the most zealous anecdotes we have read in a long time runs about this way: During a freshet, a bridge of considerable size, over which passed the track of a Montana railroad, was washed away. The bridge engineer and his staff were ordered to the place at once to prepare plans and specifications for a new bridge. Two days later the division superintendent of the division came along in his special car. Alighting at the nearest station he ran across the old section boss "Mike." Said he: "Has the engineer got the plans ready for that new bridge across Gabori. It must be rushed through in a hurry as the company is losing money every hour it is out." "I don't know, sir, whether the engineer has them pictures drawn or not but me and my boys finished putting back that bridge last night and trains have been running over it for more than twelve hours."

Sure, we need protection. The net earnings of the DuPont Powder Company for the past year reached the puny proportions of only $57,830,758 for 1915.

If this country could build ships as fast as Germany sinks them we might soon be some pumpkins in the carrying commerce of the seas.

The war news fellows have been holding their breath for almost a week now. We may expect something to be turned loose about Sunday.

The last survivor of Gen. John C. Fremont's expedition to the northwest died Sunday, and already is his name forgot. Truth is we have never even heard it.

Mr. Wilson is sure putting one over on congress in insisting each member shall fish or cut bait. Nice, little dilemma some fellows find themselves in.

Jackson county is feeling the premonitory throbs of a gas and oil boom. We hope it will develop rapidly and linger long.

The supreme court seems to squint at the holding that an automobilist has got to look out a trifle for the fellow afoot.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-MENTYRE.

New York, March 3—How would men? Here it is: "Don't write and you like to come home at night to an apartment that has forty-four rooms and thirteen baths?"

That is what you would do if you were the New Yorker who has just leased a flat of that size for $25,000 a year at 420 Park avenue. It is in a new building that has only recently been completed and is the last word in apartments.

The lease is not from Utah. He just has loads of money, and tiring of life in a big down town hotel, he decided to get a roomy place of his own, where he could stretch and all that sort of thing. There are four members of his family and there are three separate dancing rooms and an ice skating pavilion which can be frozen over in a short time. There is also a Turkish bath with a rubber in attendance at all hours. Also there is a miniature bar, where a mixologist with a record will do all that is required. In the concert room is almost every conceivable musical instrument and a big pipe organ which plays every morning. It will take about 15 servants to manage the establishment.

A few years ago Ed Morton was struggling along on $30 a week with a wife and family to support. Then Aladdin waved his lamp. It is the story of the new avenue of opportunity that has opened up in New York—that of song writing.

Morton has written such hits as "When We Were a Tulip," "On the Way to Mandalay," "If We Can't Be the Same Old Sweethearts," and the "Mother" song. The other day he purchased a loft building 10 stories high on West Fifty-Second street.

A little farther down town is a sky-scraper that was recently purchased by Fred Stone, the actor. Vernon Castle, now off to dance the Germans to death, is said to have invested heavily in New York real estate just before he departed, and Amelia Bingham, the actress, is a large property owner.

Al Tolson has a new version of the old adage: "Do right and fear no man."

PA DIDN'T FEEL THAT WAY

WOMAN SAW A COUPLE QUARRELING IN CITY IS COVERED WITH PARK NIGHT HOSEY GIRL DISAPPEARED A BLANKET OF SNOW

Mrs. Fred Roth, wife of Special Officer Roth of the Whitehall-Gloucester street plant, claims that she is quite sure that Rutella Rosey was in Hillbrook park the night of January 30. Mrs. Roth saw the young girl live near the plant office and about 6:45 Sunday evening of January 30.

She was on her way to the New Boston Baptist church when Mrs. Roth saw two persons near the pavilion. Mrs. Roth and daughter had just crossed the "Y" bridge and were in front of the pavilion when she heard and saw a couple at the rear or southwest end of the pavilion. She could plainly see the man and the other person who she says dodged into the shadow of a post, was a woman about the size of the Rosey girl. "The man was quarreling with his companion and seemed to be scolding her, from the sound of his voice. We were frightened and ran back home," said Mrs. Roth. "We were so scared I did not pay any attention to what they were saying and did not think anything more of the matter until the body of the girl was pulled from the lake. I told my husband the morning the body was taken from the lake that the people who were in the park that night must have had something to do with the case. The man seemed to be doing all the talking," said Mrs. Roth, who has told her story to a large number of friends. She also told her story to a private detective several days ago.

Portsmouth experienced a genuine old-fashioned snowstorm last night and this morning, "milder earth" being covered by a blanket of "the beautiful."

Rain turned into snow early last evening and big, feecy flakes began to fall in true mid-winter fashion. As the night wore on the mercury began dropping and the streets and sidewalks were soon covered. It snowed briskly this morning and according to Weather Observer Dr. Harry Schirrmann the snow fall amounted to 2 1/2 inches up to 9:15 o'clock.

The snow caused very little inconvenience to the street railway company, who operated their cars on schedule time. A force of men kept the switches free of snow and ice last night and there was no interruption to traffic.

"We didn't know it had been snowing until this morning," the wire chief of the Home Telephone company said when asked if his firm's service had been affected by the snow fall.

The Bell Telephone company also reported no damage.

Columbus, O., March 3.—Infant death rates in Ohio have not decreased greatly in the past five years, despite popular campaigns for education of mothers.

This was the conclusion of the state health officers today, after partially compiling mortality figures for the state in 1915. They commended observation of the week, beginning tomorrow, as "Baby week," however for the reason that only in localities where similar educational movements have been encouraged, are infantile death rates showing regular decreases.

Cities apparently are forging ahead of the villages and country districts in the conservation of baby life. In the past five years death rates in the country have been virtually stationary, but in cities the rates have lowered gradually.

Columbus in 1915 made the most remarkable showing of any city in the United States in decrease of infantile death rate, according to state officials.

Cleveland apparently was the most unhealthy city in the state for babies. Of the 2,900 babies born in Columbus in 1915, or 78 in each 1,000, died under the age of one year, and this was 36 percent less than the corresponding rate in 1914.

The death rate in Cleveland was 110 to each 1,000 born, or 17.36 births and 1916 deaths. Cincinnati had 7,781 births, 612 infantile deaths, making a rate of 78 per 1,000.

For the entire state the number of babies who die every year under the age of one is about 10,000. In 1913, owing to the excessively hot summer weather, the number jumped to 12,000. Intestinal trouble is the most prevalent cause of early death.

SUNDAY "ROARS, SCREECHES AND HISSES" DEFIANCE AT HELL AND THE DEVIL

Billy Sunday has started a battle against evil in Baltimore. Over 10,000 people heard him the first day (Sunday) at three services. When the celebrated evangelist started defiance at the forces of evil in his first sermon, his huge audience stood up and cheered and sang The Battle Hymn of the Republic.

The following is a Baltimore newspaper man's account of Sunday's opening services:

"In screeching defiance of the devil, hell and all the powers of evil, Billy Sunday threw down the gauntlet to an at the very outset of his campaign yesterday morning.

"Climbing on a chair, just back of his table, he roared and hissed at his enemies, daring them to come on, while the 10,000 souls before him in the tabernacle rose and cheered.

"To an even larger crowd at the afternoon service he reiterated his boast of fearlessness, proclaimed his intention of putting Satan in the hospital before the Fourth of July, heading the rum interests, the bot end of a poker, and cleaning up generally. 'Attacking the degradation of high society before the great throng at the night meeting, he preached the most thrilling, the most interesting and the most exciting sermon of the day.

"With a characteristic bang, Billy Sunday, always one to start things, has started things in Baltimore. The greatest evangelistic campaign this city has ever witnessed at last is underway. The months of preparation have been well spent, for now that he is here, his great organization is perfected and complete, and from now on Sunday will be at the iniquities of Baltimore, hammer and tongs. If he keeps the pace he set for himself already and those who are close to him say he will greatly surpass his first efforts—there unquestionably will be an army of (mill) hitters when he calls for converts later in the campaign.

"So complete a control of the vast throngs that heard him as yesterday he exhibited, was a profound marvel to all. At the close of his famous Grenadier sermon in the afternoon, he had worked the great crowd up to such a pitch of excitement that as one individual it rose to its feet, singing The Battle Hymn of the Republic, waving hats and handkerchiefs and underlining and cheering at the prospect of a conflict with evil in which there was to be no fear, no treachery, only a whole-hearted army fighting for the gospel that Sunday preaches.

"It was no idle or sensational boast, no play for the gallery, that challenge to the prince of evil—'Billy really believes there is such a creature in the morning.' It was his proclamation of war in Baltimore—his ultimatum to every iniquity and every individual arrayed against the Scriptures.

"Panting, hoarse and quivering with excitement, he seized a chair as one possessed and mounted it. In his eyes there was a fierce light, that beamed out over the rostrum and conveyed its message to all who watched him.

"'I defy you!' he shrieked. 'You have lied about me. Now I am here. Come on! Come on, you forces of iniquity in Baltimore that have made the church a sin. Come out! I defy the every dirty one of you. Come on, you traducers; come on, you triple extract of infamy; come on, you assassins of character; come on, you sponsors of harlotry; come on, you defamers of God and angels of the church; come on, you bull-necked, beetle-browed, log-jawed, peanut-brained, wensel-eyed four-flushers! In the name of God, I challenge and defy you!'

"The man seemed overwhelmed with a terror, an influence, that transfused him. His body was bent forward, his breath came in quick, short gasps. From his brow the perspiration ran in thick, swollen streams and his arms beat the air frantically.

"It's mighty easy to lie about a man when he isn't on the job," he snarled. 'I'm here now for eight weeks. Come on and I'll deliver the goods, express prepaid.'

William Gergens, former director of public service, has abandoned plans for engaging in the damaged shoe business for all Cincinnati and Columbus manufacturers he hoped to negotiate with are contracted ahead for several years. Mr. Gergens instead expects to enter the employ of the Irving Drew company next week. He will be in the wooden heel department and is considered an expert at this kind of work. Previous to becoming a public official Mr. Gergens worked for many years at the Selby Shoe factory.

Might Be Good Plan To Keep Them "In"

C. D. Rarey, field officer from the Ohio penitentiary, Columbus, arrived in Portsmouth Thursday evening to investigate two applications from Scioto county for paroles. Mr. Rarey said Friday that he was looking after the case of James O'Connor, a tramp, sentenced to the institution from this county last year on a sodomy charge.

The other case is that of John Williams, convicted of incest two years ago. Mr. Rarey said that this was one of the interesting cases at the institution. According to his statements, Williams served a nine months term several years ago on a charge of bigamy, being sentenced from the Pickaway county common pleas court. After being released he was arrested and charged with taking his daughter to Columbus for immoral purposes, by the Scioto county authorities and later convicted.

OBITUARY

Philip W. Noel

Philip W. Noel, aged 90 years, a prominent retired farmer, and one of Scioto county's oldest native-born citizens, died at his home on Scioto Trail Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Noel had been ill for the past fifteen weeks, suffering with a complication of diseases. Despite his extreme age and the weakened condition caused by ill-health, he remained in full possession of his mental faculties almost up to the very last.

Philip William Noel was born on the George Davis farm, September 18, 1826, the son of Solomon Noel and Mary Huston, daughter of Joseph Huston. His education was obtained by attending a country school a month and a half each winter, commencing in December and quitting in February to make maple sugar. He lived in the Davis Bottoms until he was eight years old. He was run out by the flood of 1832 and moved to the Harrods farm. In 1834 he moved to the present family home on Scioto Trail. He was elected clerk of Clay township in 1847 and served fourteen years. He was also treasurer of the township for ten years. He was a life-long Republican and was formerly very active in politics, serving as county treasurer from 1860 to 1864, and county auditor from 1865 to 1869. He was twice married, his first wife, Mrs. Harriet Oldfield Noel, daughter of Judge Oldfield, dying February 13, 1861, and his second wife, Miss Sophia S. Chase, whom he married April 3, 1861, passing away on June 14, 1873.

Mr. Noel is survived by three children, one son and two daughters; John Noel and Misses Annie and Katie Noel, at home.

The funeral will take place from the home Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. W. Dillon will conduct the services. Burial will take place in Greenlawn cemetery.

Augustus Carl Cook

Augustus Carl Cook, aged 81 years, who was one of Portsmouth's pioneer shoemakers and a respected German citizen, died at the home of his son, Walter E. Cook, at N. & W. machinist, of 4929 Twentieth street, Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Mr. Cook's death was due to infirmities of old age, he having been confined to his room since last July, though bedfast only for the past two weeks.

Mr. Cook was born in Hanover, Germany, November 14, 1834, and came to this country with his parents at the age of six years, taking up his residence in Portsmouth and living here ever since.

During the rebellion Mr. Cook enlisted in the Union army as a sergeant of the Fifty-sixth O. V. I. for ninety days and later re-enlisted, remaining in the service up to the close of the war. He was a member of Bailey Post, G. A. R., of this city. He was one of the original employees of the old Padan Bros. shoe factory.

Mr. Cook's wife, the late Mrs. Lottie M. Cope-Cook, preceded him in death three years ago. Of this union five children were born, two dying in infancy. Those surviving to mourn the deaths of their parents are: Mrs. Clyde Brockell, of Norwood, Ohio, and Walter E. Cook and Carl F. Cook, an N. & W. fireman of 2210 Vinton avenue, this city. Mr. Cook also leaves an only sister, Mrs. Sophia Pfeiff, of Ashton, Ill. Since the death of his wife he had lived a year and one-half with his daughter in Norwood and the remainder of the time at the home of his son, where he passed away. ## 10,000 BABIES UNDER 1 YEAR DIE ANNUALLY

South of Valonia, the only part of Albania where the people call themselves Albanians, or something like it. It is said, according to Sir Charles Elliot, that the names Arboret and Arboret are applied to this region and its inhabitants. The natives of the rest of the country know what is meant when Turks speak of Arvanits and the people of Albania, but they do not use this name themselves, preferring to be called Shqipetar, which means eagle men. Northern Albanians are also generally known as Ghegs, southern Albanians as Tosks, but these names are considered not quite complimentary.

HEARING AND SEEING.

The Ear and the Eye and the Power of the Brain to Remember.

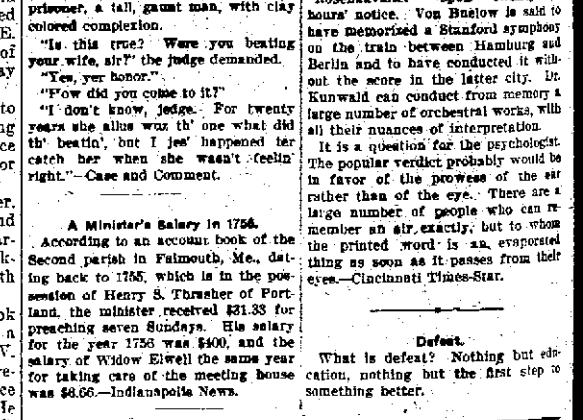

Is the ear more reliable than the eye? Are we more impressed with what we hear than with what we see? There is a familiar legend of "Paradise Lost" during a voyage to India and of the historical ability to live from a book and repeat word for word what John Stuart Mill's ability to remember the printed word.

But the balance of evidence seems in favor of the power to memorize that which passes through the ear into the brain. "Memory" Woodfall, who lived in the latter part of the eighteenth century, could attend a debate and repeat it exactly without notes, a pure feat of aural memory. Tocannini can conduct a number of difficult operas without the score before him. Thomas Beecham, the London orchestra leader, conducted from memory Strauss' "Rosenkavalier" upon twenty-four hours' notice. Von Buelow is said to have memorized a Stanford symphony on the train between Hamburg and Berlin and to have conducted it without the score in the latter city. Dr. Kunwald can conduct from memory a large number of orchestral works, with all their nuances of interpretation. It is a question for the psychologist. The popular verdict probably would be in favor of the prowess of the ear rather than of the eye. There are a large number of people who can remember an air exactly, but to whom the printed word is an esoteric thing as soon as it passes from their eyes. —Cincinnati Times-Star.

The Movies

Appearing in "Three Weeks," Elinor Glyn's Enthralling Love Drama, Columbia Today and Tomorrow

"Three Weeks" has been the most discussed novel of the past decade. Its beauty has been critically commended and its drama admitted by the most conservative. Paul, the wooer of a runaway queen, has taken his place among the heroes of fiction that men refer to with interest and women with animation. Sonia, the royal mate of a dissolute monarch, young, alluring, adventurous, is now a modern symbol of a love that seems to count the cost.

The story in its novel form has been read by more than eighty million people. It is a fair estimate to presume that more than eight times eighty million will wish to see the film realization of the brilliant romance that ends in an unusual tragedy. Readers of the book are familiar with the details that go to comprise the fascinating narrative of the original.

In the film play the author has
